

Hey Jessica,
I've been watching your videos & content for a while now.

Your advice on building long lasting effective relationships as well as helping men everywhere make the first move to get the women of their dreams.

As I was browsing your website, I noticed that it could be a more powerful way of attracting a wider audience to all your platforms.

Personally, from the outside looking in, I feel like your brand could be much bigger.

So, I took the initiative on my part to send you a sample of something different you can use to attract more traffic through getting more of your customer emails because emails are one of the fastest ways to reach most individuals.

The website will then see an increase in subscribers, viewers and so on since most of your platforms are linked to the website.

 NewsLetter Opt-In

This sample I sent above has a conversion rate of close to 30% for new clients that visit said page.

Best Regards,

Sam.
