

We’re pleased to introduce you to your new Geckoboard Admin area, complete with revamped user permissions! Let’s run through the changes.

New user types

We’ve introduced two new user types: Organization Admin and View Only, giving you more control over who has access to specific dashboards and features. Now only an Account Owner (formerly Admins) can do everything, including critical tasks like upgrading your plan or deleting your account. So this might be a good opportunity to consider who needs full access to your billing and account settings. The new View Only user type also enables you to easily give someone view only access to all your dashboards.

What can each user type do?

Faster account configuration

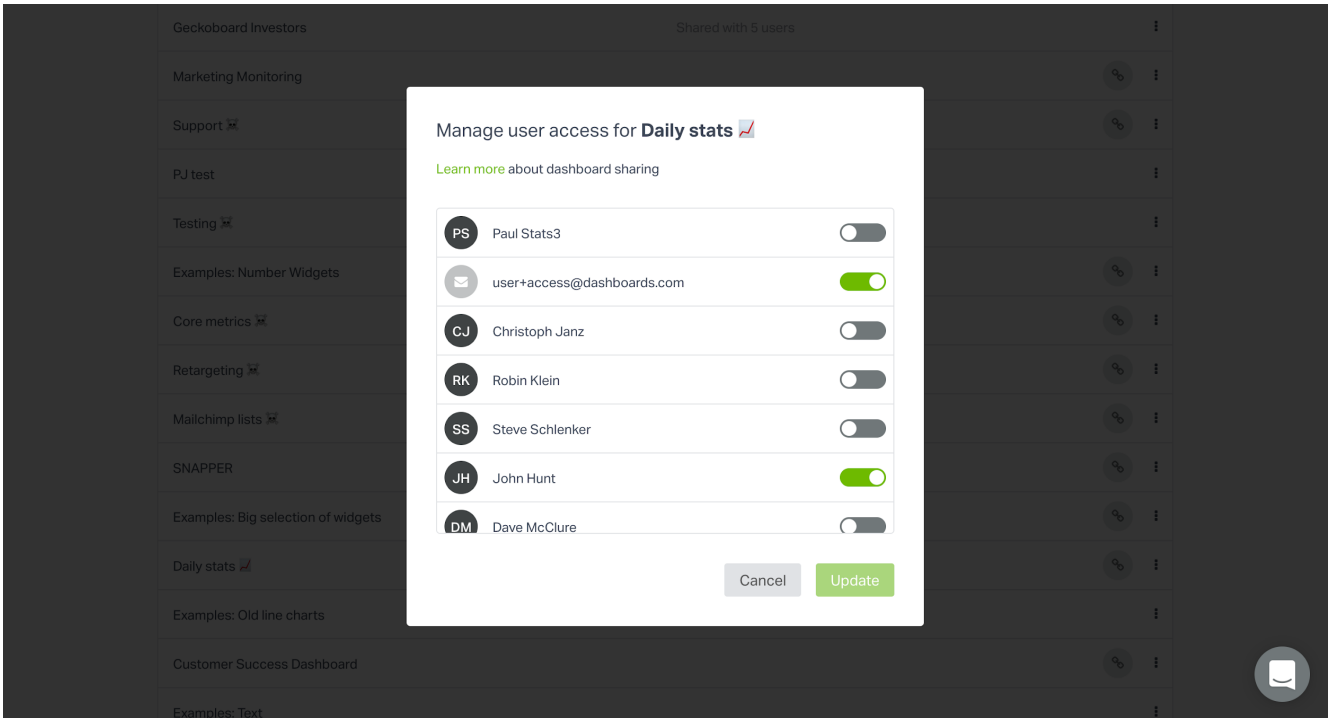

Next time you visit your admin settings, you'll notice a dramatically streamlined user experience for managing your account.

Dashboards

You can now clearly see which dashboards have Dashboard View Only users without having to click into the dashboard setting.

You can also quickly add additional View Only users to a dashboard directly from here. Before, you were restricted to using the share modal on the dashboard itself and typing in their email addresses.

People

Your account users are no longer confined to a modal. You'll now find them neatly categorized under their respective user types. You can also see their email addresses, so you'll know you've got the right person.
