GENERAL

Name: Ma Ga

Age: 23

Pronouns: Demigirl (she/her/they/them)

Looks: Bright yellow hair that fades to lava-orange, orange-and-yellow eyes, dark red skin, one fang protruding from mouth. ~4' in height, wears a slightly-singed yellow-and-orange jumpsuit (sleeveless), and a dark red belt with hoops in it. Hair is so long that even in a pony tail, it still hangs over her head.- Ma's eyes glow, and her eyebrows are scarred (all clothing is fireproof thanks to enchantments done after she nearly hopped in a lava-lake with them on).

Parents: Mag Ga (father)

Birthplace: The Nether

PERSONALITY & POWERS

Likes: Nylium (to eat), lava, the sun, torches, fire, netherrack, bones, gold, fire resistance potions, fish, drawing, mushrooms in general.

Dislikes: Nether Warts, beds, awkward potions, streams, birch trees, apples.

Weaknesses: Reading/writing (illiterate), clumsiness, curiosity.

Strengths: Curiosity, drawing (very good at it), jumping (can jump up to 60').

Powers/Weapons: Ma Ga has a natural fire resistance, being from the Nether. She can also jump excessively high, and can regenerate/heal really quickly so long as she is in lava.

Personality: Curious, innocent, excitable. Ma Ga is the equivalent of a small child, despite her age. Like any small child, her emotions can tend to swing from one extreme to the next, but she's trying to work on that.- It's slow progress, and she has some unhealthy coping mechanisms (biting herself amongst others). Ma Ga, both deep down and on the surface, is a child that lost her parent too early in life- and she's just trying to figure the world out. She pays respect to her father each night before bed, as a way to sort of remember him even though he's passed on.

PAST + EXTRAS

Timeline: Unknown

Species: Magma Cube-human hybrid

Romance: Demiromantic

Past:

Ma Ga was raised solely by her father, Mag Ga. They were inseperable, doing everything together. Mag Ga had a tendency to jump without looking, something he passed on to Ma Ga after his death. He died when Ma Ga was ~10, leaving the hybrid to fend for herself in the harsh, unforgiving Nether. Thanks to none of the other hostile mobs in the Nether targeting her, Ma Ga grew up knowing only curiosity- which often wound up with scraped knees, elbows,- you name it, she had it. She met Crystal and the other hybrids only recently, and since she has been without a home and family for so long, she's taken to living with them in a village they made together... Her home is, of course, styled after Nether Fortresses- a reminder of her home (she's even got a portal in the basement!).

Extra:

Ma Ga shares her home with Molt Enva, a Magma-Golem hybrid. Molt Enva lives in the basement, in a sub-room just off the main area for the portal.

She also sleeps on a 'bed' made of soul sand (although she refuses to call it a 'bed'). There's a small panel hidden by half-slabs near her bed where she pays respects to her father every now and again.
