

Official figures from the regulator of the gaming inspection and coordination bureau in previous Portuguese residences showed the rise marked the 13th consecutive month of monthly improvement but was lower than the 24% widely predicted before bad weather struck.

Macau's total gaming revenue in August is well above the recently revised consensus of plus-18%, and the industry has increased 19.1% year-over-year to about $21.34 billion since early January. 안전 슬롯사이트

"As we noted in a series of field notes after the typhoon last week, we believed the trend was returning to normal pretty quickly and still expected growth of more than 20% in the month," Gerberson said. "We also expect September to be in the high teens. Overall, growth in the third quarter of 2017 may be broadly in line with lower growth in the low 20% range in the second quarter."
