

APPRECIATION

A good day shows in the morning, so they say. Writing articles was a commitment we put upon ourselves at the beginning of the year. To the best of our ability we wrote on different themes in the course of the year. Little did we know or even anticipate that the winners' award would be rolling down from the top of the mountains to the bottom of the sea, to our beautiful Tanzania!

What an honor indeed! What a blessing! It is a marvel in our eyes! How possibly would any of us have imagined that this great gift would come to us! You have made us so proud. We are so humbled.

We certainly cannot thank you enough for this very special recognition of our tireless effort to contribute to the articles of ASEC. In our incapacity to fully express our deep gratitude to you, we ask God himself to truly be your reward.

Thanks, a billion to our Tanzania ASEC coordinator and director for ever encouraging us to write as a way of enriching each other and getting to know much more about our life and progress, and the deep impact we are making in our world today, as we serve with greater confidence, efficiency and effectiveness.

Thanks to the editorial board who take trouble to read all our articles, and make time to distinguish which is which for the good of all. We have learnt a lot from this enriching experience of writing articles. No doubt we will keep the fire ablaze.

Our work is far from over, but what we've accomplished together has made a difference in our lives. We are determined to roll up our sleeves and continue this journey with more dedication than ever. If we've made this much progress in just one year, think what we can do in many more years...

Thank you very much! Merci beaucoup! Asante sana!
