With a lack of focus and sharpness in today's fast-paced world, the visionary minds of Benjamin Witte, David Hess, and Justin Hauser came together to create the revolutionary "Recess" Drink.

Originally designed to bring balance, concentration, and inspiration to people's lives, Recess empowers individuals to tap into their full potential for productivity and creativity, despite the challenges posed by an increasingly stressful world.

Recess was developed to enhance your focus and mental perspective, helping you stay sharp despite all distractions.

By incorporating CBD and adaptogenic herbs, Recess helps the body in managing stress and promotes overall well-being, empowering you to pursue your dreams, achieve your goals, and find success.

Some individuals may experience the benefits and effects shortly after consuming the beverage, while others may need to use it consistently over time to notice significant effects.

Recess is all about natural, organic ingredients, offering a low-sugar, low-calorie, and low-carb solution for those seeking a balanced lifestyle.

What sets Recess apart is its non-alcoholic nature, providing a unique flavor experience without the negative effects of alcohol or caffeine crashes.

In a world full of distractions you need awareness, distinctness, and calmness, Recess provides a refreshing haven of tranquillity—a brief escape from the fast-paced modern life.

Leave behind unease and restlessness as you welcome the soothing effects of Recess—a drink crafted to awaken your true potential and bring harmony to your day and future.
