

We stayed busy this holiday season as we made two day trips to see family. On Christmas Day, we made the drive to Marlette where we surprised my mother-in-law with a visit for a few hours. We saw my nieces and nephew, ate dinner, and got caught up. It was Josh's first visit to his grandmother's house in almost a year.

On Saturday, December 28, we traveled to my mom and dad's house where we had dinner and exchanged gifts. This was also a quick trip. We left around noon and returned in the evening.

##

Edit