Welcome to the basics of Capsule Cats!
Please Read: Capsule cats are completely free a species
This will help you get a basic understanding about the species capsule cats!

THE BASICS

Everyone has that special item in their life! Say a plush you got when you were young, or something you just bought that you feel you have to take everywhere or show it off to your friends.Well that's were capsule cats come i with the help of a care capsule you can place your favorite item in it and with your love a capsule cat is born! They treasure your item as much as you do and they can keep it safe with them inside their capsule tail at all times!

What are capsule cats?

Capsule cats are creatures who have gacha capsules for tails! Each capsule cat has a special item of its own, but there can be some exceptions for this. Some capsule cats can't get enough of one item these are called hoarders, some end up with broken capsules or lost owners and can end up losing their items! (oh no!) Each capsule cat shares a special bond with its item and don't worry as long as you take care of them your special item is always safe with them!

How do I get a capsule cat?

All you need to get yourself a capsule cat is a special item called a care capsule! Once you have obtained one all you have to do is place your special item inside and BAM a capsule cat is born! Now lucky for you, joining our group grants everyone a care capsule from gacha palace so you can have a furry friend to protect your item right away!

How should my capsule cat look?

Every capsule cat has an item, and most will have traits based on the guide depending on what rarity they are. Most capsule cats fit the theme of their items! There can be a few special occasions however there is a shop where you can purchase items to change the appearance of your capsule cats if you are no longer happy with their design and other weird items that can do who knows what to their appearance. Even then they should still try to represent their item by how they look.