

I'm quiet, but when they poke the bear, I cannot stay quiet. I really do feel like it's my faith that helps me be able to speak words that make sense. On my own, I don't think I could do that, but somehow, I manage to tap into a flow of wisdom beyond me, beyond myself.