

Privacy Policy for Dumop

Effective Date: April 19, 2026

Dumop (“we,” “our,” or “us”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting it. This Privacy Policy explains how information is handled when you use the Dumop console and any applications available on it.

1. Information We Collect

Dumop does not collect, store, transmit, or process any personal or non-personal user data.

All applications available on the Dumop console are designed to function without collecting any information, including but not limited to:

- Personal information (such as name, email address, or account details)
- Usage data
- Device information
- Location data

2. Data Usage

Since no data is collected, no data is used for any purpose, including analytics, personalization, advertising, or tracking.

3. Data Sharing and Selling

Dumop does not share, sell, rent, or trade any user data with third parties. No data exists to be disclosed to advertisers, partners, or service providers.

4. Data Storage and Security

Because Dumop does not collect or store user data, no user data is stored on our servers or systems, and no data security risks related to stored personal information exist.

5. Third-Party Services

Dumop does not integrate third-party services that collect user data. Any third-party tools or libraries used are implemented in a way that does not transmit user information.

6. Children’s Privacy

Dumop does not knowingly collect any information from children under the age of 13 or any other age. Since no data is collected at all, the console is compliant with child privacy regulations by design.

7. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. Any changes will be reflected by updating the “Effective Date” at the top of this page. Continued use of Dumop after changes indicates acceptance of the updated policy.
