Professional Learning:

- The first week of June was a great opportunity for teachers to close up the 24-25 school year and start planning for the 25-26 school year. The mornings were spent in the building collaborating with colleagues and learning about the new curriculum. The afternoons were flexible learning for staff to work independently on professional development.
 - Monday:
 - Teachers cleaned out rooms and inventoried materials
 - Adams teachers met individually with administration to reflect on the year and make goals for next year. Fairview did this activity the last week of May.
 - Tuesday:
 - Teachers cleaned out rooms and inventoried materials
 - Adams teachers met individually with administration to reflect on the year and make goals for next year. Fairview did this activity the last week of May.
 - Wednesday:
 - The morning was spent with the Savvas trainers to start planning for Unit 1.
 - Teachers explored the online and print materials and started collaborating in their grade-level PLC
 - Thursday:
 - The 2nd-5th grade teachers learned about SuccessMaker and how it will support the individual needs of students in developing their reading skills.
 - Fairview & Adams teachers and administration met separately and reflected on the past year and what action steps can be taken to continue improving the approaches used to help student behaviors.
 - Action Steps:
 - Create priorities for the Behavior Interventionist position in each building
 - Continue to develop Tier I behavior expectations in the classroom
 - Address high need areas in the building and create plans for how to address those needs
 - Friday:
 - Teachers checked out with administration
