

Roommate Coordination

Library Publishing Forum 2020

Are you planning to attend the 2020 Forum and willing to share hotel costs with another attendee? Post here with contact details and other information.

Guidelines:

- Use of this document is subject to LPC's Code of Conduct.
- Please provide enough information so that other people can contact you.
- Use a horizontal line (Insert--> Horizontal Line) to set your post apart from others.
- If you find a roommate or decide to stop looking, please delete your post.

Note: We're providing this posting board to make it easier for LPForum participants to find potential roommates, but doing so is up to you. The Program Committee is not able to help make connections or find accommodations for individuals.

Questions? Email contact@librarypublishing.org.

See also:

- Travel, Registration, and Hotel information on the Forum website
- Local Information—sightseeing recommendations and more from locals

Note about Accommodation

There is a small block of reduced-rate rooms

Looking For Forum Roommates?

Jody Bailey

jody.bailey@emory.edu

I have reserved a room with two queen beds at the Beechwood Hotel, $172/night + tax, checking in on May 3 and checking out on May 7 (I'm attending a post-conference meeting). Prefer a female roommate.

[Enter name and info]

[Enter name and info]
