SUBJECT: SCP-457's origins

If new information is found it will be added to this document.

SCP-457, otherwise known as 'Jackie A. Riordan,' was born in Kansas, according to a conversation had with Winona. When Jackie was a child, he was somehow gifted with special abilities. These abilities consisted of his being able to produce fire from his hands. It's not known where he got this ability, nor is it known how he was able to do this; however, one of his first memories with this ability was him burning down an entire school, killing everyone in the fire. The reason for this fire was that his friend 'Daniel' tended to use him to get out of academic activities such as tests, this being one of them.

After an unknown period of time, Jackie would end up being with his friend Daniel.' Daniel was a troublemaker, as Jackie called him, saying he typically never paid attention in class whatsoever. Eventually, Daniel would be killed by Jackie, presumably. He stated that his death was an accident and that it was not meant to happen. Even saying that he died due to "The fire of his own volition." After this, Jackie was charged with involuntary manslaughter and was sent to Site-40 as a Class-D.

Some time later, while he was a Class-D, an explosion would occur in Site-40, causing Jackie's body to be completely destroyed. The cause of the explosion is not known; however, after the explosion, his abilities were able to rebuild him a new body, a body made from his flames.

Eventually, the events of Ground Zero would occur in which the Reality Anchor was destroyed/malfunctioned, causing the previous timeline to be erased. For reasons unknown, the only known anomaly to make it out alive or to at least retain the memories other than SCP-1730-5 was Jackie, also known as SCP-457.

To conclude this document, the 'Jackie' of this new timeline is presumed to be dead or replaced by the past timelines Jackie. Below are attached documents that helped in the making of this document.
