

Ph.D. in Human Resources,
Minor in Faith-Based Resources Management
HBI University

Course Duration: 3 years

Credit Hours: 105

Program Description

The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Human Resources at HBIU University is designed to cultivate experts in workforce management, organizational leadership, and employee development. This program provides an in-depth exploration of talent acquisition, labor relations, diversity and inclusion, workplace psychology, and strategic human resource management. By integrating theoretical foundations with applied research, graduates will be prepared to shape HR policies, improve workplace efficiency, and lead organizations in fostering ethical and sustainable workforce practices. This program equips students for high-level careers in corporate HR leadership, consulting, academia, and labor policy development.

The Minor in Faith-Based Resource Management specialization offers a unique focus on integrating human resource principles within religious and nonprofit organizations. This specialization examines topics such as ethical leadership in faith-based institutions, volunteer and staff management, conflict resolution in ministry settings, and aligning HR strategies with spiritual values. With an increasing demand for structured HR practices within faith-driven organizations, this minor equips students with the skills to create organizational policies that balance business efficiency with ethical and faith-based leadership.
