Bill Mohlenbrock, MD FACS
Orthopedic Surgeon

Dr. Mohlenbrock followed medical school and internship by entering the US Naval Aerospace Medical Institute, where he trained as a Flight Surgeon. He served onboard the aircraft carrier USS Yorktown during the 1968 Pueblo Incident and operations off North Vietnam. After his honorable discharge from the Navy, Dr. Mohlenbrock completed an orthopedic residency at the University of California, San Diego, where he has served as an assistant clinical professor since 1973. He trained as a trauma surgeon at the Balboa Naval Hospital during his residency. His areas of expertise are adult reconstructive, total joint, and scoliosis surgeries and sports medicine injuries. Dr. Mohlenbrock's orthopedic surgical practice has been primarily based at Scripps Memorial Hospital in La Jolla, CA. He is also an expert in clinical quality improvement and medical outcomes management. His extensive teaching in these areas has made him comfortable conveying complex problems to public forums, including Fox News.

Dr. Mohlenbrock received his BS degree from the University of Illinois and his MD from the St. Louis University School of Medicine. He holds fellowships in the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons and the American College of Surgeons. He is a noted lecturer and has published numerous articles on measuring and improving medical care quality and cost efficiency, his passion and consulting efforts for many years. His book on these issues is "The International Handbook of Healthcare Value." Dr. Mohlenbrock's practice is now limited to office-based orthopedics. He practices with Torrey Pines Orthopedics on the campus of Scripps Memorial Hospital at 9850 Genesee Ave, Suite 210, La Jolla, CA, 92037.
