Excess standing water can trigger mold growth in as little as 12 hours. In the event of a fire or water emergency, the RestoPros of Southeast Atlanta team takes immediate action to address and prevent mold proliferation while implementing a mitigation plan. Unfortunately, under normal circumstances, mold issues may go unnoticed until spores become visible or odors arise. Mold poses health and safety risks not only to those in close proximity to the outbreak but also to anyone within the affected structure, as airborne spores can compromise home or office ventilation systems. Without intervention, mold continues to thrive, affecting walls, flooring, ceilings, furniture, and various surfaces, even compromising the structural integrity of a building. RestoPros of Southeast Atlanta licensed professionals are adept at detecting and eliminating mold infestations. With a simple call to RestoPros of Southeast Atlanta, mold issues can be identified and diagnosed, enabling the implementation of a plan to restore a clean, safe, and healthy environment to your home or office.

When To Call RestoPros of Southeast Atlanta

Knowing when to contact RestoPros of Southeast Atlanta is crucial. Stagnant water, a breeding ground for mold, can hide in unexpected places. Recognizing whether your home or office is affected by mold involves a few straightforward steps:

1. Odor: Uncommon, musty, or unpleasant odors may indicate a mold issue. Check for these odors around your home or office.
2. Visible Markings: Dark-brown or black, circular markings on walls, ceilings, flooring, or furniture can signify the presence of mold spores.
3. Standing Water: Any indications of moisture or standing water inside your home or office warrant an immediate call to RestoPros to diagnose and address potential water/mold issues promptly.
