

Operation Database: Operation Handshake

SCP Foundation Operation File
Classification Level: Clearance Level 4

Operation Overview:

Site Advisor Jack Raider was tasked with maintaining better relations with Site-42. The proposal he showed during his speech was about steps that would benefit both Sites. The main goal of this meeting was to import more crucial chemicals to Site-65 from Site-42s storage room. Our site must maintain perfect relations with Site-42 due to their massive amount of chemical production, that is why it is crucial for us to make the meeting happen with best intentions.

Course of the meeting:

In the beginning some refusals appeared from the Ethics Committee of Site-42, they were concerned about their prize for maintaining a well-made transportation system with Site-65. After a brief explanation from Site Advisor Raider Ethics Committee Chairman was shocked how well-created the proposal was. Both sides were getting something in return, which was not expected by the Ethics Committee, due to previous negotiators being selfish and they wanted to give nothing in return. After the meeting, interdimensional doors were placed in Heavy Containment Zone Inanimate Object Storage on both sites to ensure easier transportation and communication between sites.

Outcome:

Site-65 achieved a very strong and independent ally, which will be supplying us with needed chemicals. The only thing Site-42 wants in return are SCP-2295s samples, due to it being hardly harvested in any other sites.

Site Advisor Jack “Cader” Raider was noticed by the Ethics Committee of Site-42 and they seemed very intrigued by him. One of the Members asked if he is ever going in direction of the Committee, which advisor replied:

“There is no going in this direction, once you are in. You are in. If I am the chosen one, so be it. I will not refuse my destiny.”

