SL : I Know the Exact Reason You're Not Successful

"I wish I was rich"

"I wish I was as shredded as he is"

"I wish I was that locked in

All this pussy shit I hear all the time

The thing you don't know

Is you can actually have it all

But you don't want it hard enough

Now I know you're going to come back at me and say, "of course I want it"

But if you did, guess what?

You'd have it

And you certainly don't have everything that you want right now, am I correct?

As humans we all have similar desires

We all want to be living large, traveling the world, driving a clean 911 porsche and sitting poolside with a combination of blonde and brunette baddies

But the unfair thing is only 1% of the population can live this type of life

And everyone wants to be in that 1%

For the other 99% that just fell short, they are imprisoned by 9-5's and struggling to pay bills while having a $100k student loan lingering over their life

So before I start spitting out the secrets to becoming rich, shredded, unstoppable and within the 1%

I NEED YOU TO WANT IT

WANT IT WITH ALL YOUR HEART

You will get everything you want you just need to take the action

Without action, without taking the initiative you will guaranteed get nowhere

That's not me scaring you, that's not me being mean

I'm trying to change your future

There are people out there fucking working their asses off

And guess what, they are living your dream

So when you have decided that you ACTUALLY WANT IT

I've got the secrets coming to you

Stay tuned.

SL : Why You're Not Where You Want To Be

I'm going to tell you something that I don't often talk about

But it proves that you can become your dream version of yourself

I know you may look at me now as a man with secrets to obtaining that living large type of life

Filled with traveling the world, driving a clean 911 porsche and living with discipline and purpose

And don't get me wrong I do have those gems on getting you this life

But I was once that man in his room at night

All lights off, laying on my back with tears pouring down my face

Making sure I was completely silent

Feeling so alone, ashamed, stressed about my future and like a complete failure

And my body reflected that

My bank account reflected that

And my weak mindset reflected that

I was in terrible shape, nothing in the bank, and would jack off like a loser

I've been in those very trenches

And the climb out is not easy

It requires hard work, dedication and I tell you, you have to fucking WANT IT

There is 9 billion people walking around on this earth right now

99% of them will forever be imprisoned by 9-5's, struggling to pay bills while having a $100k student loan lingering over their life and physically won't have the ability to run 3 miles

That was always the nightmare

So you have to escape

And turn into the man that can take on any challenge

The man that attracts rather than chases

The man that lives out his full potential

And becomes a member of that sacred 1%

Like I promised

I've got the secrets to achieving this

But you have to put in the work, be dedicated, believe and FUCKING WANT IT

So Stay Tuned

They will be coming your way
