

Trinton's Simple Guide to Tracking FF1R

- 1) You will get a link to the tracker webpage from either the restreamer or SGBot
- 2) You need to open that page, and be able to watch the race, and the chat.
- 3) You will be in the same voice chat as the commentary team, with your mic muted and indicate items on the tracker when a runner gets them.
- 4) It is helpful if you write in discord where the items were located, ie: King gave the ship. Vendor item was the Rod in Onrac.

Randomania:

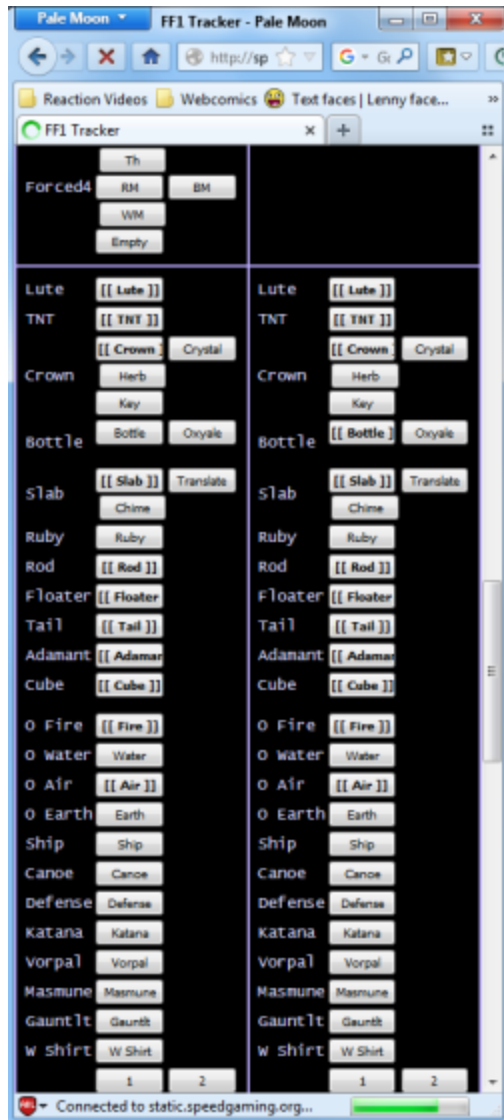

RM uses a visual, browser based tracker which will be given to you in a link. In tracker mode, it will look like this:

You point and click to change the status of the items, while watching the race and listening to the commentary. Race broadcast for randomania are done from this discord, you join the voice channel for the broadcast.

Speedgaming:

SG uses a browser based tracker with buttons for the items. You will get a link to it from SGBot about 10 minutes before race time, and it will look like this:

SG Bot will give you an invite to a new discord, you will join this to listen to the commentary, and any notes to the commentary will be typed in the general channel of that discord. To watch the SG video feed, flash needs to be enabled.
