

SL: Ciao Kaal, quick question...

Mail body:

Hey,

first off, thank you for the eggnog recipe. I just found your cooking channel thanks to that video: "Feed your balls" ahah.

And then I discovered your other channel! The main one.

And I have to say, you're making some great content! I'm sure you're gonna grow exponentially in a couple of months. (Hamza who?)

So, the question I have for you is: why don't you start a newsletter?

The type of content you're putting out is great to turn into emails.

It would be a nice way of engaging with your audience; plus summarizing your recipes and thoughts in an easy to read email would make your content more accessible to those who don't really use YT or don't have the time to.

What do you think?

Una buona giornata!

-Giuseppe :)
