Pink Love

A Hyena x Baron fan-fiction by Lieutenant Lore

Chapter 1

It was spring.

It was the first day of spring... and the first day of high school for many Japanese students. Pink Hyena, the godly eldritch horror that came from a far away place in the galaxy and currently resided in planet Earth was rather... curious. Being what he is, Hyena could easily erase all of this pathetic, small planet. But he chose not to, otherwise he would be bored as soon as Earth imploded or whatever methods he used to do such things. The eldritch god was also curious as to why these mere... “monkey in pants,” as he calls humans, absorbed knowledge that way: sitting in a room with other people for hours and listening to another human talk for a horrid amount of time. In any case, he had nothing better to do.

So he decided to give a chance to this human “high school” thing.

Hyena disguised himself as a pink furry hyena anime girl (surprisingly) to join the Wii A Boo High School, and of course, using a pink variant of the regular school uniform and a pair of sunglasses. He also added a long ponytail to add to his gracious look. As he walked through the schoolyard, he noticed how the cherry trees bloomed and its pinkish leaves waved alongside the wind. The petals glided gracefully to the ground, adding life and color to the beige flooring. The bright blue sky was absolutely stunning, there were only a few puffy clouds that gave off a peaceful vibe. Additionally, the morning sun gifted the land with warmth and Vitamin D. Hyena noticed that a few students were looking at him, they’re probably jealous of my pretty girl look! He thought. But he was wrong, the Wii A Boo students were actually shocked and confused to see something so different as Pink Hyena walking in the campus.

The pink eldritch managed to grab the attention of everyone in Wii A Boo School, but he didn’t really mind it, he actually enjoyed being the center of attention, especially when smaller forms of life like humans acted like that. Suddenly, all of his beloved attention went away when another student arrived at the classroom. Hyena glared at the teenager angrily, and quickly noticed it was a popular kid everyone talked about in the hallways: Dipitous. The white-haired dude who wasn’t athletic at all, but he definitely was smart. He got straight A’s in all of his classes and was the librarian of the school.

“What a dummy head,” Hyena whispered to himself. “I bet he’s just a big nerd. What a loser.”

But oh boy was Hyena right.

Baron sat right next to him, and Hyena could now observe Baron’s face with more precision: The senpai had a soft smile and tender eyes, his cheeks seemed like they were gently painted with a pinkish watercolor, his white hair could be compared to cotton candy, or even fluffy clouds, and his body had the shape of a teddy bear, a true friend. Baron noticed he was being watched and looked at Hyena, opening his warm smile even more as his eyes shined with amusement.

“Oh, hey there! You must be the new student, right?” Baron asked, lifting his hand to Hyena. “I’m Dipitous, but you can just call me Dippy.”

“Dipitous...? D-dippy... Drippy Ron! What’s up loser?!” Hyena said laughingly while shaking the senpai’s hand. Dipitous just sighed, but maintained his friendly smile anyways. “Heh. I’m Hyena, Pink Hyena!”

“... Pink Hyena? That is a... very exotic name, and it fits you! I hope we can become friends soon enough!”

The bell rang and all the students went to their respective seats. Dipitous adjusted himself on his chair and left Hyena be.

Friends soon enough? Hyena thought. Hmph, I’m not a loser like him... what a baka.

It was after school, and Hyena was walking through the empty, gloomy hallways of the Wii A Boo High School. He had to admit, it was a bit depressing to see such an empty place, where it’s usually full of joy and laughter. But now only the comforting sunset light is here to make him company.

As he wandered through the school, he reached the library doors, which were glass doors to be more precise. Just giving a quick glance he could see Dipitous in there. Hyena’s heart started to beat faster as he locked his vision on his fellow classmate who was sitting on the balcony going through some papers. Oh man, was Dipitous beautiful. Hyena just stood there, menancingly while admiring the man that made him go crazy go stupid. He had to snap out of it, so Hyena quickly ran away from the library doors. I can’t believe I’m falling in love with that baka man, he thought as tears dropped from his red, demoniac anime eyes.

Chapter 2

It was the morning of the second day of school, and Hyena had a plan. The plan where he would confess his feelings for Dippy. He left a note on his crush’s locker, hoping that they would meet at Wii A Boo’s biggest sakura tree.

There he was, Drippy Ron at the sakura tree waiting for Hyena. He’s so punctual, he thought. He got closer to Dipitous.

“Hey Hyena! What do you want to talk about?” Dippy said, smiling as usual.

“I...” Hyena stuttered as he quickly holded Dipitous’ hands and both immediately went red.

“H-hyena, t-that’s illegal!”

“Nothing is illegal when I’m with you...”

Dipitous’ eyes were shining like a jewel and his cheeks were bright as a tomato.

“M-man.” Dipitous said.

“Horse....” Hyena replied.

And then they kith. On the cheek cuz they’re not gay just good bros.

"Drippy Ron... I.... I love you! I want to spend the rest of eternity with you!" Hyena said in tears.

"Ah, Hyena.... I'm just a simple human, and you're a God," as soon as Hyena heard these words he froze, he was shocked.

"W-what? How do you know?!"

"Well, it got pretty obvious that you're not human," he smiled. "But I still admire you! I love you too, brother!"

Hyena burst into tears again, hugging Dipitous tightly.

"Hyena... your embrace is very touching."

And this is when Hyena snapped.

The pink eldritch released Dippy and punched him in the face.

"This is what you get for making such a dumb pun," Hyena said, growling. "Adios, loser." So he left doing a T-pose while Dippy just laid there in an awkward position.
