

SL: Do you want to double your following?

Hi Jonathan,

I would like to say first of all that out of everyone I have reached out to in your niche, you're the only one I have heard by word of mouth in the Catholic sphere of social media, so I think that speaks a lot about what Catholic Woodworker has to offer.

In the social media world, especially Instagram, the Catholic community is growing, mostly among the youth, and obviously this provides businesses such as yourself tremendous opportunity to grow and be a cause for good in the society in which we currently live.

With my knowledge of social media, I am willing to help you utilize it to reach even greater heights, and you'll have attained a doubled following or more and more revenue.

Are you willing to take the first huge steps to reach the mountain top of your niche? If yes, you can contact me via email, phone number or my social media.

Sincerely,
Michael
