Fund for My Magical Education

$200 of $9,999

Raised by 3 people in 1 month

Hey! My name is Amanda Maloney...and I have a desire.

My desire is to be filled with magic in every cell of my being. There's a lot of ways to get there, and every one of them is a potential to grow in numerous, unfathomed ways.

My goal is to go to a OneTaste Immersion Program. They have many programs, which includes the Mastery Intensive Week and the Coaching Program. I am interested in both, but I won't know which way I am going with this until later, so I ask for your support! Every contribution fills me with gratitude and makes it clearer to me just how right it is that I am on this journey, right now. If you'd like to learn more about the OneTaste Foundation, visit their website at onetaste.us

The reason I'm choosing OneTaste as the organization for my magical education is because of the 15-minute Orgasm-cultivating practice called OM (short for Orgasmic Meditation). I've tried a lot of different practices of meditation, and have always wanted to have something in my life that would cultivate my sexuality and desire and fill me up in such a way where I free to ask for what I want. OM is that, and much more. This practice resonates with me more than anything has for me ever, except maybe yoga and eating healthy. It's so simple, yet it's effective at creating heat and changing the way I'm living my life.

My intention for going to the Coaching Program would be to get more TurnedON in my life, learn how to receive the way I want to receive, get super good at integrating my polarities and "shadows", and learn how to show up in my life in all these places that we aren't normally accustomed to allowing ourselves to be vulnerable in. Like anger, rage, vengeance, sadness. Heartbreak. I also want to bring my incredible wisdom out in the world, and help out the rest of us who want this amazing juiciness in their lives, too!

I have written a superbly surreal and dimensional book called Zenophobic. I have copywritten the name with the government of Canada

I am a reclusive rave reverend that lives in a forest community on Vancouver island, I was apart of the club-kid scene of the 1990's which influenced this project.

The first module has been completed, the editing!!! THANKS !!

now the next logical step is to get the ebook some studio time and be published as an audiobook ($6500)

The second module includes editing the sequel ($2000)

Now you may be wondering....What is a Zenophobic? A misspelled interpretation of Xenophobia? well the book is based on a gay stud with schizophrenia that travels through a massive multi-player virtual world called Zenophobic. He meets gurus and goes to raves!

His best friend in the virtual world shows him how he can actually morph into his avatar and literally be the character in the virtual world.

Much of his insane and funny travels through the virtual world are a by product of my own dream state, not only that but he meets a ferret (furry) guru and attends her enlightenment talks and the sidekick character does quite a bit of poetry in the real world at a poetry gathering at his local cafe

The book charts their lives and through the world of love and never ending fun.

EVERYONE that helps fund this book gets a pdf. copy of Zenophobic to read.

I will automatically send this to the email that pays.

Meditation Deathmatch

$1,589 of $5,000

Raised by 40 people in 3 months

What is Meditation Deathmatch?

It's a game where we put EEG's on two players to read their brainwaves. We ask them to show us their war faces. Then we find out who can relax harder.

Anyone can get excited in an instant, but few can relax at will.

Ultimately we want to teach people to develop better control over their neurological states.

As a team we're excited about the opportunities for personal development that this this technology makes possible.

Meditation Deathmatch is our first public release in the neurofeedback arena.

This project will let us field test our plans for a future system that you'll be able to use to enhance your meditation practice at home.

With EEG we can provide people with a quantitative framework to develop their own their own techniques for neurological control.

There are many ways to reach a target state. The name "Meditation Deathmatch" is absurd, and that's intentional because we're not recommending particular beliefs or techniques.

We're not gurus. We're not going to teach you how to do it. We're just going to tell you if you're winning or not.

But through playing, you'll be able to learn yourself what works.

Our next major exhibition of this project will be at Burning Man in August. We need your help to construct the Geodesic Thunder-OM where players will face off.

Create your own cult, but donate to us first.

Let's talk about rewards!

These shiny glass tentacles are hand made by our concept originator, Eric. They're game tokens! You can use them to skip the line once. You get to keep the tentacle of course. They make great necklaces.

(some of the reward tiers are pretty great, and they have a Dogecoin donation link in their first update)

Gaming Ministry

$100 of $8,000

Raised by 2 people in 4 months

We all have someone who plays games.

If you yourself are a gamer or know someone who does you are well aware of the stigma associated with it. The church currently has no outreach to gamers and fantasy communities leaving the door wide open and uncontested to the influences of atheism, wicca, and agnosticism.

"Go into all the world and preach the gospel to everyone." Mark 16:15

I am 28 years old Youth Minister who lives in Denton Texas. I have been in active ministry for 12 years and I have successfully planted several youth ministries as well as a Music Venue, and a thriving Gaming Outreach. Many gamers came out of many difficult walks of life and as a result came to know more about God's love and Christ's Forgiveness. I am excited about reaching out to Denton, TX which is a college town with over 45,000 college students.

Be apart a revolution.

A culture of Jesus.

We can exchange Fantasy with the Reality of God's awesome love.

Why games?

(an assortment of paragraphs cut from this part, it's quite long)

These kids are hungry for the supernatural, an unquenchable thirst for adventure and an insatiable urge to take on the evils of a world and overcome them. The only world they are given is imaginary, the evil a fantasy, and the supernatural a twisted distortion of the truth. We want to change that with a real encounter with Jesus.

What most don't know is that There are a wide variety of excellent, fun, healthy games that can be played without moral compromise. There are even Role Playing Games that are amoral. They can be used for good and be played without the glorifying of witchcraft and sorcery. It is just as easy to play a sword wielding hero who conquers criminals, saving slaves, and protecting the upright. We aren't here to redeem the games, we are here to stretch out grace to the players. To use the platform to build relationship and minister the love of Christ.

A 3 Michelin Star Restaurant Tour

$100 of 280k

Campaign Ended.

Food is our lifeblood. That and water, but its beside the point. Either way, I love food, and I love when food is presented in new, exciting, and fancy ways. I found out today that if I was rich (which I am not) I could plan this awesome trip to go visit every 3 Michelin Star Restaurant in the world, all I need is your help because I cannot afford to do this myself! Anyway, please pledge your donations to me and my most likely unobtainable monetary goal of $280,000. Remember, every penny counts, so if you pledge a few dollars, and the next person pledges a few dollars, we can all make this happen. Help this go Viral as well.

You may be asking though, what will I get in return...well here it goes (the side is an abbreviated version, thank you character limits):

All Supporters: Everyone who supports me will have my love, gratitude, and affection forever for helping to make this a reality. I will also start a blog or email which will detail my adventures in culinaria.

This funding would help me a lot in creating my very first full length video game. This game i have been planning for over 4 years now and now that school is finally over (i just graduated high school) I can fully focus on my game before going off to college. This money would go to the products that will help me create the game and pay for the specialist helpers who will help me make the game. This is some of the art work of some of the characters (The game would be T for teen :) These were sketches, no nudity will be in the game.)

Raised by 1 person in 2 months

My name is Andrew Pace, and I am a game developer. I live in the Denver area, and I need help with the startup costs for my new indie game studio!

I am currently in the process of assembling an international team to work on a game project, but the process is starting to get away from me. Everyone is so excited about the project and they want to move forward, but I still need to ensure that our hard work isn't all for nothing. I need to register for all of the necessary trademarks and copyrights, but I don't have the money to do it.

Please help me get this taken care of!

Putting God back in Country

$1,780 of $5,000

Raised by 34 people in 25 days

My Heart...

I did this to help raise funds for one of the biggest opportunities of my ministry. Before I tell you the details, I wanted to be a bit transparent with you and share my heart. I received some negative feedback. It was said that this campaign made it look like I was asking people to help me become famous. I just want to assure you, this is far and away from the truth. Here's the truth, you can't get "famous" doing Christian Country Music. The industry is just not there. Frankly, I have no desire to be famous. As a matter of a fact, I had to have council from my Pastor to even get me to care about writing songs again. My heart has been and will always be, working with local pastors to see their city won for the Kingdom of God. That's the truth!

The Plan...

My plan is to have three songs cut, mixed and produced in Nashville with the best musicians in the world and to do it with excellence. I then plan on releasing these songs to radio stations across the U.S. and for the first time I will have songs on Itunes. Lastly, in November we will be attending the Inspirational Country Music conference. This is a huge step for us to go to a national level.

If you believe in our ministry and believe that God is in what we are doing, please consider sowing into this project. I went to my Pastor and asked him, "do you think this is a wise direction for me at this time and is it wise to ask people for help?" It was a resounding YES! He said, he believes in what God has called us to do and believes the larger the platform the more people can be reached. That's all that matters to ME!

Love y'all

Help Entrepreneur Succeed

In August 2013, I took a leap of faith and quit my job to pursue a dream of starting my own company building things that I was passionate about in a market I was passionate about. I had been tinkering with the company since 2009, but decided it was time to go all in and make it my full time pursuit.

The challenges of starting a new company are already daunting. Additionally, my wife and I had our first child, a little girl, in May 2013. This made life/work balance even more of a priority, and in turn also added more pressure to 'make things happen'. It seemed crazy to leave a good paying job with benefits to pursue my dream, but my wife and I both knew it was the right decision.

The company is called Tourtek. We are at a point where product development is complete, but funds are needed to jump the last few hurdles to taking the product to its final completion. Nearly $100,000 has been invested in company start up and product development costs. We have shown the product at an industry tradeshow and the response was awesome. My cash reserves are nearly depleted and I am unable to fund these final hurdles myself. Below is what is left to do.

$150 of $1,500

Raised by 3 people in 7 months

I have just started midwifery training and was making plans to attend the 2014 Sacred Beekeeping Program held by the Ashland, OR-based College of the Melissae when I lost my job unexpectedly, with no notice given. I am using this to reach out to those in my community for help in order to attend this amazing program. It is the only program of its kind that I have come across and teaches sacred beekeeping and holistic, natural biodynamic-based beekeeping practices. It is the first program to offer students "to be certified as Natural Beekeepers with the forming International Natural Beekeepers Federation after one year of full study of starred () courses," and "After two years and full completion of all of the courses with a minimum of 65% homework returned, students will earn the certification of Melissae: Sacred Beekeeper."

My ultimate goal is to have a Biodynamic Sacred Bee Sanctuary and Temple whenever we start our permaculture homestead, hopefully within the next 3-5 years. I also want to be able to offer clients and temple-goers Apitherapy, the modality of healing and maintaining health using bee products (bee venom, propolis, raw honey, beeswax, etc.). I believe in raising bees in a natural, biodynamic manner that is beneficial for all"the bees, the earth, and people too.

*Donation Rewards:

Pupa-- $25: tarot reading + a handmade piece of jewelry (your choice of finished pieces):

Worker-- $50: a tarot card reading and a commissioned hemp jewelry piece; bi-weekly updates on personal beekeeping progress:

Drone-- $75: tarot reading, commissioned hemp jewelry piece, bi-weekly updates on personal beekeeping progress + a small bee-themed painting, painted just for you:

Queen-- $100: tarot reading, commissioned hemp jewelry piece, bi-weekly updates on personal beekeeping progress + a large bee-themed painting, painted just for you + a hand-crafted magical or ritual item (valued under $20) from our shop...

Also look at http://www.collegeofthemelissae.com/Home_Page.html if you haven't had enough

The College of the Melissae offers a community-centered hands-on approach to beekeeping science, art, craft, culture and ceremony. Modeled after ancient village-based temple educational systems, the college will offer a multi-faceted curriculum that will train students to become proficient beekeepers as well as develop the skills to provide action-based magic and leadership in these changing times.

We intend to go beyond current beekeeping practices by delving into the Sacred and developing a deep resonant interaction with Apis Mellifera. Through collective envisioning and prayer we will celebrate and strengthen community and learn from one of Nature's greatest emissaries, the Mysterious Honey Bee.

Our Mission is spiritual, cultural and political as the Melissae's energy directs and defines itself.

Stand Up Comic wants to Stand Down!

The Transition is on...

Hello there, I've been a Stand Up comic for 30 years. During that time I have brought laughter and at least short term happiness to literally millions of people from ages 8-98, from all walks of life around the globe. During "Gulf 1" I traveled to Spain, Italy, Germany, England, Scotland and the Far East to entertain our troops. It was the most rewarding gig I have ever had the good fortune to be part of. I continue to donate to Wounded Warrior Project and make myself available for any entertainment needs they have. I never did this gig for the money. I did it for the pure joy of performing and to help people to get out of themselves for awhile, to simply feel good and set their day to day worries aside for a bit. I was away from my wife and 3 kids often, too often. Missed too many family moments and celebrations but that was part of the gig and we all new it. Never been to Rehab! No drug, alcohol or gambling addictions, No "tatts" or piercings. Just a regular guy, which sad to say is not particularly fashionable in what show biz is today! I'm ready to get off of the road and stay home with my family and hopefully grand kids soon. We recently purchased a small farm and the money raised here will help me transition to another new rewarding and productive life and allow me to stay off the road, clear up debt, and populate the self sustaining farm with Ducks, Chickens, Goats, Sheep and Alpaca... We hope to give back by opening a free petting zoo for the kids and community and by donating food grown on the farm to local charities for families in need. Thanks for your consideration and Thanks in advance for your generous donation and your part in helping this Stand Up Stand Down.

PLEASE READ AND PLEASE DON'T PASS JUDGEMENT I come before you very humbled and blessed, but it has taken all that I am and with heavy heart to ask for a little help. Most of you know that when I was young I was very stupid to put it mildly. But I had lost my drivers license when I was 22 and I did time in Jail for it and still to this day it is a memory that is ever present. Ever since then I been trying very hard to make it up to everyone, and including myself. But in the last three years I have had the opportunities to be apart of things and to give back to the communities from which I had lived but because I don't drive or have a license I was denied the ability to perform the duties the community would ask of me and in the meanwhile I had to be on the outside and I would love to get my EMT certification, but again I need a drivers license. But when I called DMV I was told that I need to pay \$6550.81 for the sur charge, taxes and filings and that I need to pay $\frac{3}{4}$ of it before I can go and take the written test and that I must complete a defensive drivers course. But I would like to know if you all could help me raise the money I am on a fixed income which only goes so far between bills, rent, food and having to take buses, trains and cabs to get where I need to go. Now as long as it is local I can work for the money, I can cook, clean, and light duties, plus those that know I can also do tarot readings, energy work, spiritual house cleaning, life force readings. For some reading I can do it via skype or face time but for those that just would like to help you can donate at

If you are wondering what all of this is, I would be happy to answer any questions. Ultimately, it means I have a large arena to work with to give you a specialized and individualized healing experience. Most of these techniques can be done energetically over the phone with profound effects. Although, if you are local, I am certainly willing to connect in person. We are energetic beings and that energy can develop blockages that affect us in many different ways. Orgasmic Meditation is another facet that I am cultivating through this program. Support www.lifeofpixel.com

Raised by 7 people in 20 months

Russian Version is here: www.lifeofpixel.com

Maybe I would never brought up such a proposal, but the idea that no one ever did anything significant without support of others, as any business for its own sake does not make sense, has led me to this decision.

As many of my friends know, I have a family: wife and two daughters; I always try to make an effort to work and care of them, as well as to be useful to community, for the people around me: family, friends, neighbors, co-workers, and even just random people. That is why I push myself hard, not to sit still. Here is for you work for wages and personal development, knowledge acquisition and utilization, increasing personal experience, which can be sooner or later useful to others.

In life I do a lot of different things, but fortunately it happened so that photography became my "habit" and now from this "craft" I try not only benefit myself, but community as well. Besides the fact that I spend a lot of time which belongs to my family, making a lot of effort to improve in this "habit" to serve others, I leave a lot "behind" simply by the reason of constraints of time and because I appreciate the priorities in life: family, work, relatives, etc., and then everything else, just like in that story of "Mayonnaise Jar and Two Cups of Coffee". I am sure that for many reasonable people it's all understandable, or at least as an ideal.

Now thinking that what I do single handedly can be improved with the support of others, I have decided to implement this. I hope that people could support me with the idea. I guess, life will show (I know, I'm not the only one, who has such ideas)

What's the plan, or what's the deal?

Taking advantage of the position of circumstances, I have decided to make this offer in this manner.

I know that a lot of my photos have already distributed to be useful (we see them in social networks, personal photo albums, web photo galleries and even in advertising magazines), earned a good memory for people whom received them, but many have not yet reached the addressee for known reasons. I want to note that, regardless of where "The wheel will roll" we already can call what we have a project, because in creation of some of the photos took several people, where has been involved their time, equipment, personal presents and even funds.

If anybody agree and can confirm that what I am saying make sense, please visit my page on Facebook and respond "like" in the post of this proposal. You also can tell to do those people who are not yet in my "Friends", but could to be part of the rolling ball. Each of you will have an opportunity to participate one way, or another.

Raised by 14 people in 3 months

Following a lifelong dream of being able to move about the country as guided, living simply . . . urged on by my unschooling kids' desire to see more of the world . . . I decided to rent my house out and move into an RV.

I'll be traveling as guided and as invited, bringing music and bringing SoulPath work to individuals, couples and groups who want to receive sessions and learn how to use these tools to activate their own relationships and shared journey.

I envision setting up the RV with solar power so we can be lower-impact environmentally and more flexible about where we stay.

The boys and I will begin May 15 at an intentional community near Boonville, Missouri, where we'll enjoy visiting and I'll help community members there learn how to use SoulPath skills in exchange for our time there. They will then be with their dad for a while in June as I travel (by air) to Mexico to visit my sisters in their community and share SoulPath and music. Back again to Missouri to pick up the boys, and I have a singing engagement at Unity of Denver at the end of June (still building that trip, and if you live in the Boulder/Denver area and would like to schedule some music or SoulPath work please contact me!!!).

I received a very generous loan to pay for RV, but would love your support in raising money to pay that back, set up the solar power and build a safety cushion for our travels, as we get used to this very new way of life!!
