What is the Rotom Rally?

The Rotom Rally is a series of solo bike races throughout the Wild Area in Pokémon Sword & Shield. There are 7 distinct locations. You may race from any location to any location. This results in 42 distinct courses. The highest known scores (fastest times) for these courses are listed above, with video proof.

Checkpoint Balloon: These balloons are mandatory, you must hit every single one to complete the track. They reward you with more time, and more time remaining at the end will yield a better score.

Score: The faster the run, the higher the score. 1 frame saved will give you another 16-20 points. (Some routes seem to be 16-17, others 20. I don't know why.)

Charge Boost: Press B to boost, once charged. Your boost will begin charging at the start of the rally, and anytime you're not boosting. The charge time is based on distance traveled. This boost lasts around 3 seconds. It is the longest form of boost.

Boost Balloons: If you ride into a boost balloon, you will be rewarded with a 1.5s boost. Boost Balloons may be skipped.

Initial Boost: During the initial countdown, press B while the number 1 is getting bigger and fading out. This gives you a 1.5s boost. Your charge boost will still be charging up during this.

Short Spin Out: Release the left stick while spinning out to do a quick 360 instead of a long spinout.

Spin Out Boost: Press B towards the very end of the spinout to get a ~2s boost. Your normal charge boost will continue charging during this. You can and should combine short spin outs with spin out boosts.

Self Spin Out: Rotate the left stick to spin out without hitting anything. This is slower than hitting a Pokémon, but good if no Pokémon are around to hit.

Boost Stacking: Boost balloons and spin out boosts are stackable boosts. This means if you touch multiple boost balloons in short succession, or do a spinout boost into a boost balloon, the duration is extended. The charge boost seems to be completely separate, and doesn't stack with the other types.

Sharper Turns: Pressing the control stick close to 180 degrees from your moving direction will allow you to turn more sharply than if you had pressed left or right.

Clearing Spawns: Some Pokémon have predictable spawns, and can actually be cleared from your rally path by engaging them in a battle beforehand.

Weather: Which Pokémon spawn is determined by the current weather. Some weather may give you spawns that are more preferable.

Casual Controls: If you turn on casual controls in the options menu, you will be able to steer with either stick. You will no longer have any control over the camera. This can be used for cleaner self spin outs, by holding the right stick in the intended movement direction, and rotating the left stick for the spinout. This control style has pros and cons.

Pause Trick: Press A, X, ZL, ZR, +, or - to open the withdraw menu. This will freeze your current position and time until you close the menu. This also kills your speed and removes your current boost. This can be used shortly before hitting a boost balloon to allow a new charge to begin. You can also wait for moving balloons to enter your vicinity while paused.

Ground to Water Transition: When moving from ground to water, you will have to go through a transition animation. You may boost during this transition, but you may not spin out.
