Dear School Community,

It's been a November to remember!

This month, our students learned about Veterans Day. At the Royalton Campus, we held an assembly where students explored the history and importance of the day, heard from local veteran Steven Hall, and joined in the Pledge of Allegiance—beautifully led in sign language by our 4th graders.

At the Bethel Campus, we celebrated Feast Day with over 100 guests joining us to break bread together! We're grateful to our food service team for another delicious meal and to the students who helped prepare it. Mrs. Fechter's class made pies for the Feast and extras to donate to our local food shelf—an act of kindness we're so proud of.

How many cubes long is Ms. Brown?

Across both campuses, PreK–5 classrooms have been buzzing with learning. We also practiced our Relocation and Bus drills last week. Students did an excellent job. If we ever needed to relocate for real, we would notify guardians as soon as possible with details on what's happening and when children can be picked up. Photo ID may be required at pickup.

There's so much great work happening across WRVES—from the innovative learning in our fourth grades at SRES and BES to the energy in PE at both BES and SRES. Be sure to check them out!

During Wildcat Time and morning meetings this past week, our focus was the character strength Other People Mindset: Knowing My Words and Actions Affect Others.

This means understanding that everything we say and do—whether spoken, emailed, texted, or posted—can positively or negatively affect others and our relationships. When we choose respectful, thoughtful words and actions, we help build a happier and healthier community for everyone.

To explore this mindset at home, you can visit The Positivity Project's mobile-friendly P2 for Families site. Each lesson includes a short video, a quote, and reflection questions. Below are links by grade band

Thank you for your continued partnership and support. We're deeply grateful for our community and excited to continue strengthening our connections and celebrating our shared successes in the months ahead!
