

Angelica's introduction to the timeless art of poetry was in middle school thanks to her English teacher and a poetry assignment.

Not only was the introduction love at first write, but it was a spiritual life-changing experience that helped Angelica discover her purpose on this earth.

On that day, Angelica vowed to use her writings to help others and herself, no matter what she went through, good or bad.

She continues to fulfill her vow today by enriching her work with her adventures, life experiences, and continuous personal growth.

To fulfill her purpose on earth, Angelica's natural counseling abilities are included in her writings through the teachings of The Higher Connections & Communications Program™. Every reader is educated, motivated, and nourished to achieve betterment from the inside out.

Angelica uses her wings to soar in the genres of poetry, fantasy, mystery, erotica, and self-help, with a hawk's eye on children's books as she has completed a children's book with her son, and working on YA books with her daughters.

Angelica Stevenson is currently working on the second book to her multi-award-winning book, "The Karmatic Way Series: Side Effects #1 The Blurred Vision Trilogy," under her pen name, which is also her maiden name, Angelica Quantinet Grayer.

As well as a new series that continues the journey of Selene and her family from her first book, Judgement Day, an epic poem.

Angelica Stevenson has also completed her first self-help book to assist addicts in overcoming their addictions with their God-given connections, powers, and freedom, by sharing her victorious journey over addiction without the use of traditional methods.