

Hello there,

Thank you for taking the time to investigate vaccine info, pros & cons. I chose not to vaccinate my son based on the info below.

I tell my personal statement, then I go from neutral, anti vax, to just good info to have to raise a healthy child, regardless of your decision.

The Weston A Price link near the bottom, can be helpful for immune building whether you choose to vax or not, and may actually be more important for vaccinated children. I also have links on how to notice the signs of a vaccine reaction and what to do about it.

MY PERSONAL STATEMENT - Knowledge, Logic, Street Smarts, My Instincts, Courage (to act on my instincts).

My primary reason for avoiding vaccines of all kinds is that vaccination has become an issue of lack of TRUST.

FACT 1: Vaccines are a manufactured product sold by pharmaceutical companies for a profit. Even benign product like aspirin, Advil and Tylenol have risks and side effects and that can be dangerous, cause organ damage and even be deadly for infants.

Then I go to the pediatrician and they tell me side effects are rare. OK. Prove it. Product insert. Oh boy. :-(

Please read just the first page of the product insert for DAPTACEL (DTAP vaccine) created by Sanofi Pasteur:
https://www.vaccineshoppe.com/image.cfm?doc_id=11179&image_type=product_pdf

FACT 2: "Systemic reactions that occurred in >50% of subjects following any dose included fussiness/irritability, inconsolable crying, and decreased activity/lethargy...."

So, at least 45% (or they would have rounded down to less than 45) of all infants administered this vaccine have a systemic adverse reaction.

I went to 3rd grade. I know that <50% is NOT rare. That is almost half of all infants given this shot.

FACTS 3,4, 5, 6, 7. It also casually mentions that follow up doses are CONTRAINDICATED if the last time your kid had this shot they had:

3. Encephalopathy (brain swelling) within 7 days of a previous pertussis-containing vaccine with no other identifiable cause.

- Clearly stating that this product can cause brain inflammation. The only way to know if this will cause brain inflammation in my infant is to administer and hope for the best?
- How would you notice if an infant's brain is swelling a little from the last shot and/or a little more on the next shot? How would you know unless it's swelling so much that your child's brain is not fitting in his/ her skull anymore? Headache? Brain damage? Developmental delays? Learning disorder, incessant crying, irritability, Inability to learn or concentrate when they are 5?

4. Persistent, inconsolable crying lasting ≥ 3 hours within 48 hours after a previous pertussis-containing vaccine. (5.2)

- The actual definition of colic as a side effect? I thought no one knew what caused colic? Obviously vaccination is ONE cause of colic.

5. Seizures within 3 days after a previous pertussis-containing vaccine.

- So they are saying that vaccines can cause seizures? On their own product insert?

6. Apnea (cessation of breathing) can happen in premature infants given this shot.

- So what the vaccine insert is saying is that vaccination CAN cause your child to stop breathing?

- How many chances do you have to get THAT one wrong?

If cessation of breathing can happen with a preemie, in full term infants does this risk completely disappear?
I personally don't think 2-3 months will completely eliminate this risk.

So what Sanofi Pasteur is saying outright on their own sales document is that vaccines can kill an infant?

I thought the point of vaccination was to avoid death from infectious disease?

So vaccines CAN be the reason why SOME infants DIE suddenly? (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome) aka SIDS

Meanwhile I've heard nasty theories about mothers smothering their own babies and THAT is more plausible than a vaccine induced adverse reaction???... Even though the insert says it can cause an infant to stop breathing???
What causes all of these side effects if vaccinations are SO harmless?

7. My favorite goes against the CDC schedule: Do not mix with any other vaccine in the same syringe or vial. (7.1)

- But it's OK to mix with another drug (or vaccine) in my child's body? CDC schedule has other shots listed for the SAME day!
How can THAT be a good idea?

8. This DTAP actually says that autism has been observed post vaccination according to VAERS:

<http://www.fda.gov/downloads/BiologicsBloodVaccines/Vaccines/ApprovedProducts/UCM101580.pdf>

^^^ Dead link.

Adverse events reported during post-approval use of Tripedia vaccine include idiopathic thrombocytopenic purpura, SIDS, anaphylactic reaction, cellulitis, autism, convulsion/grand mal convulsion, encephalopathy, hypotonia, neuropathy, somnolence and apnea. Events were included in this list because of the seriousness or frequency of reporting. Because these events are reported voluntarily from a population of uncertain size, it is not always possible to reliably estimate their frequencies or to establish a causal relationship to components of Tripedia vaccine.²

Now ask your pediatrician if the last time a parent complained of colic they:

1. Reported this "adverse systemic reaction" to VAERS (VAERS is explained lower down)
2. Refused to give a child like this another shot.
3. Even knew that the product insert says that at least 45% of infants have a systemic adverse reaction
4. Know what VAERS and VICP is.
5. Would personally take responsibility if this vaccine caused my child to stop breathing?

Pediatricians are often one track minded about vaccination compliance and ignore risk factors like:

1. possibility of exposure to disease,
2. age,
3. weight,
4. height,
5. testing for titers to see if the child already has antibodies to a particular disease,
6. exposing the child to one disease at a time,
7. if the child is currently sick, delaying vaccination and
8. generally disapproving of combined vaccinations.

This article takes the moderate stance but it seems that it's expected for animal doctors to be more wise about the vaccination approach than pediatricians.

http://www.huffingtonpost.com/dr-sherri-tenpenny/vaccines-veterinarians-ar_b_533505.html

My son deserves to have at LEAST as much consideration as a dog.
Most people's children have had less consideration in their care than their dogs.

I tried to get individual vaccinations for my son but they are no longer sold this way for humans.
Combo shots are much cheaper to produce.

If cheap is the operative word for my son's life and quality of life, I don't trust the process. I opt out.

If the person I'm paying to advise me on the health of my child is selling me a shot with over 45% chance of systemic side effect listed on the product insert, and then goes on to tell me that side effects are rare, I can't take them seriously.

What good is what they learned in medical school if it made them forget to read and how to think.

But that's just me.

Keep reading below, I'm just getting started.

NOT FOR THE TENDERHEARTED... but I made myself watch.

These parents didn't know about the possibility of a vaccine reaction, and were told repeatedly by doctors that it was impossible to have been caused by vaccines.

Doctors don't always know best:

<http://iansvoice.org/default.aspx>

Ian was in an at risk category, but no one warned them. The parents didn't do their own independent research, and many doctors and nurses were in denial. If you decide to vaccinate your child you may be responsible for making that call, even if your doctor won't.

MAKES YOU WONDER:

I thought the next two places were fake, but sad to say they are quite real:

1. National website to report vaccine injuries:

<https://vaers.hhs.gov/esub/index>

VAERS is a post-marketing safety surveillance program that collects information about adverse events (possible side effects) that occur after the administration of vaccines licensed for use in the United States.

Can you say "human guinea pig"? Lets track how bad these reactions are and after 40 years conclude some of these things cause problems? Not on my son you aren't.

2. National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program (VICP)

<http://www.hrsa.gov/vaccinecompensation/default.htm>

Is a government administrative agency dedicated to reimbursing vaccine injured children. My favorite part is that VICP is funded by a tax that is tacked on as a sales tax when vaccines are sold. This is on the first page of that link when you scroll down:

The excise tax is imposed on each dose (disease that is prevented) of a vaccine. Trivalent influenza vaccine for example, is taxed $0.75 because it prevents one disease; measles-mumps-rubella vaccine, which prevents three diseases, is taxed $2.25.

What this means is that when you buy a vaccine at your ped's office you are contributing to this fund so that if your child IS injured this administrative court decides if your child is injured enough to be reimbursed by this fund. It's called consideration. They are assuming that since you consent to paying into the fund you are knowingly and willingly accepting the risks.

Vaccine manufacturers don't have to come out of pocket for a SINGLE injury! That's right. YOU pay. And you can't sue them afterwards directly either. Manufacturers have absolutely NO incentive to make vaccinations safer.

WARNING....SUSPENSION OF MY NEUTRALITY

These gov't agencies were created because Pharmaceutical companies threatened not to sell vaccines anymore because they were losing too much money paying out damages. US Government stepped in to add a tax to cover compensation to reimburse injured people, and in this way can put a cap on how much they can be reimbursed. US Government saw unavailability of vaccines as a public health risk and believe that vaccines are the only way to curtail this risk.

Actual Study. Notice the conclusion. Stop the breast milk? Why?
<http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/20442687>

Does "less immunogenic" mean that the vaccine is not preventing illness in these children, and therefore they are still getting sick? Or does it mean that kids in these countries don't get sick from rotovirus, as long as they are breastfed whether they are vaccinated or not? If it's the second, why are they trying to figure out how to make them have an immune response anyway?"

Neutralizing activity was greatest against the 2 vaccine strains of human origin, RV1 and 116E." What is the source of the strain RV5 G1... the one that is not of human origin? Is it a genetically engineered virus? Is it from another animal? Why not say source of the other virus?

Do these "children in poor developing countries compared with middle income and industrialized countries" know that they are part of a study?

Basically vaccines don't cause autism, ADHD, Hyperactivity, Dyslexia, eczema, asthma, learning disorders, allergies et al but for certain at risk children, they can be brought closer to the melting point by vaccines.

But for some children it is the straw that broke the camels back:

This new book written by an immunologist mom must have been just written. I fail to find the words to describe how factual, wonderful, thought provoking this book is and I'm not even done reading it. I'm glad that it's only 53 pages. No fluff, straight to the point:

At 15 months old my unvaccinated son gave me the scare of my life, cutting his hand on a rusty manure used farm rake. My friend helped me find this:

<http://www.scribd.com/doc/36111224/24/Tetanus-Curable-and-Preventable>

I also found this:

<http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/18425960>

Read: If the larger subjects were given higher doses of Vitamin C to account for their larger size they would not have died as they did not with the real life cases in India where even spasmodic tetanus was cured. If someone were to be exposed, the sooner you give the Vitamin C treatment the less dramatic the Vitamin C treatment and it's side effects has to be. Better yet you have vitamin C in your system at all times and get no special treatment if exposed you NEVER develop tetanus!!!

Needless to say I gave him enough Vitamin C to cause a nasty diaper rash, but he ended up potty training at 15 months going barebutt for 2 weeks so it was win-win for all of us. Also he takes this vitamin C 2-3 times per week for his size:

and cell salts... esp when teething:

<http://www.amazon.com/Hylands-Cell-Salts-Bioplasm-Tablets/dp/B000JJGIR6>

To be fair, I also don't isolate him from eating dirt. I don't serve it up on a plate mind you but I let him help me in the garden, rocks and dirt end up in his mouth. I take out as much as I can when I catch him, but I believe this also helped him after reading The Vaccine Illusion:

Thank you for taking the time to investigate vaccine info, pros & cons. I chose not to vaccinate my son based on the info below.

I personally have spent thousands of hours reading and collecting the info on this doc. It has all that any person needs to know and I update with new info as I find it :-)

My son is now 32 months old and even despite a heart dropping scare with a rusty farm used rake, I do not regret a thing.
