

Derek's Joke

If you've been fortunate enough to keep your job throughout lockdown you will identify with this.

I contacted a painter and decorator to do inside my house and it turns out was a pilot with Ryanair and was furloughed by them.

He was inexperienced as decorator but coped well with the task and made an especially good job of the landing!