🔥 Dan Mohler Prayers

Lord, I'm here. And with open face I'm coming and I'm never covering this thing again, cause you love me, or you'd've never sent your Son to the cross. Thank you.

Father you vowed to never leave me or forsake me, that you're as close as the mention of your name, that your love will never fail. And God, even the way you gave your Son, and your body, Jesus, I give mine for your glory and honor, and I separate myself for your glory. And Jesus, the way you shed your blood to wash me, forgive me, and make me clean, I will not hold my life back even to the shedding of blood. If this thing costs me everything, God, I'm all in, to manifest what you paid for.

This is the Covenant. All that is yours is mine and all that is mine is yours.

I am honored that we're one.

Father, you have delivered me from the power of darkness. My heart is not to live in darkness, be bound by it, be influenced by it or even remember it—You're a God of light and there is no darkness in you, and you're in me, and I thank you. You have translated me into the light, you have made me free, you've forgiven me of everything I've ever done.

You've made me clean before you, clean in your presence, you've accepted me into your kingdom, into your family, and into your love. I thank you for loving me!

Thank you for looking at me with your eyes of affection and throwing my past life into a sea of forgetfulness. God, I'm a brand new person, I'll never be the same, you've changed me forever.

✨ My relationship with my Father

I am led by you, Holy Spirit, and I hear from heaven.
Lord, thank you for all the many ways you communicate with me.
I know your voice, and a stranger's voice I do not follow.

I have a phenomenal relationship with God.

I trust you to give me every revelation I need.
I am not an orphan that I would have to beg you to speak to me.
You love to speak to me. You are jealous to be formed in me, to be one with me.
Thank you for the beautiful dialogue I have with you all day.
I am in constant communication with you, 24/7/365.
Everything I do, I do in your presence.
There's no time day or night that I depart from you.

Your Word invites me to ask for wisdom, and you will give it, without reproach.
Your Word promises if anyone desires to know a teaching, they will know it.

Your Word invites me into profound, total union with you.
Jesus, you prayed in John 17 that me and my brothers & sisters would be one with you in the same way you're one with the Father. I join with you in that prayer today.
Razor sharp discernment—that's what you want for me, and that's what I'm walking in.
I only do what I see my Father doing. I only say what I hear him saying.

I cast aside every worry of "getting it wrong" or not having an answer yet. I am growing by leaps and bounds every day. The ability to hear your voice grows in an ecosystem of rest and grace. I do my best, and rest in you. You use even my mistakes for the good. I am not depending on myself but on you. Thank you for the peace with you that I live in daily.

I love this adventure of going deeper with you every single day.
You took a bullet for me, so I can trust you with my very life.

There are some things that it's not yet time for me to know. I trust you and wait on you with the faith of a child.

Father, I receive your affection for me today.
I receive the pleasure you have in me.
I receive your validation of me.
I receive your affirmation of me.
I receive the positive words you speak about me.
I receive your delight in me.
I receive your provision for all my needs.
I receive the destiny you have for me.
I receive your unconditional love that cannot be earned by anything I do.
Your love for me will never change. I receive it fully.

I love you, Father. Jesus. Holy Spirit.
I drink from you, and I'm never thirsty again.

I can't afford to have a thought about myself that you don't have about me. Holy Spirit, I align my thoughts today with your radiance, genius, nobility, abundance, splendor, and beauty.

The same mighty power that raised Jesus from the dead lives inside me. (Wow!)
That same power has resurrected every part of my life. I believe it! I believe you! I raise the name of Jesus high over all trauma, rejection, demons, lack. Those things are no match for Jesus. I walk forward with no smell of smoke, as if the years of cursing never happened.

Jesus is the Strongest Man.

Everything the enemy tried to do against me, you have turned around for my good, and the good of others. The years of bondage became my training ground & weaponized me as a minister of deliverance. Now I lead others out of Egypt and into the Promised Land.

Lord, I charge forward into the divine, radiant & powerful future you have for me. IT'S TIME!

I am present, focused and rested.
There will always be things pressing and people clamoring.
But I take the time I need for recreation, rest, and the Secret Place. The work will still get done because you are a supernatural multiplier of time & resources.

I am not a victim of anyone or anything. I'm not a victim of any person, circumstance, lack, or demon. I have the power of the 3rd person of the Trinity living in me. God gives me all things I need for life and godliness. My identity comes from God.

Jesus, you came so I would have life, and more abundantly.
So I live in divine health and fruitfulness today.
I am a world shaper and history maker.

My life is an extension of the healing ministry of Jesus.

Grace is my story

I am heavily defended.

🌿 My Body Prospers

I dedicate my body to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus,
You took up my pain and carried my suffering in your own body.
You became a curse so I could be curse-free.
You were pierced for my sins.
You were crushed for my sin nature.
The punishment that brought me this wonderful peace & wholeness was on you,
And by your 39 lashes, my body was healed. Is 53:4-5

Because of you, Jesus, my physical body is healthy and strong and whole, filled with vigor and life and strength. My mind is sharp and clear and flooded with your light. My spirit is radiantly on fire for you. My eyes flash and my skin glows with your holy presence. Your light shines out of me.

I am a true believer: In your name I drive out demons.
I speak in heavenly tongues.
When I come in contact with contagious sicknesses, deadly poison, contaminated food, or radiation, it doesn't hurt me at all.
My hands are holy hands. When I place them on sick people, they recover.

You gave me authority to trample on snakes & scorpions and to overcome all the power of the enemy; nothing will by any means harm me. Luke 10:19

I am completely delivered.
There are only HS manifestations in my body.

My voice releases your life-giving power.
I speak with clarity and poise.
I have the authority you gave me. When I open my mouth, miracles start breaking out. That's the power of your words coming out of my mouth.

Because I dwell in the Secret Place - No sickness shall come nigh my dwelling.

A thousand may fall at my side, and ten thousand at my right hand, but it will not come near me. Because I have made the Lord my refuge, the Most High my dwelling place, no evil shall befall me, no scourge come near my tent.

You are my refuge, Father.
You are my dwelling place.
You are my covering, my stronghold.
You are my home.

Your beautiful presence hovers over me and ministers to me.
I wake up with the HS on me.
Your blood covers and protects me.

I glorify you in the way I eat.
I savor each bite and enjoy each meal to the fullest.
I bless my digestion.
I enjoy my food fully, with true freedom, the way you intended.
I have mastery over my flesh in the area of food.
I'm sensitive to you when it's time to fast, and I obey immediately because I know that you know best.

- I do my daily work in the power and presence of the HS.
- I operate in divine health and supernatural energy.
- Thank you for the divine work you've given me to do. It's an honor and privilege.
- I was born for this. I was born for such a time as this.

👑 Dominion

For if, because of one man's trespass, death reigned through that one man, much more will those who receive the abundance of grace and the free gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man Jesus Christ. Romans 5:17

Thank you that I reign in life through the one man Jesus Christ.

What dominion looks like for me:

Thank you so much for this beautiful life that you have given me.

🦄 The Truth About Me

Lord, I know that all kinds of narratives, messages, accusations and judgments against me will swirl from all kinds of people, inspired by the demonic realm. I am not naive to this, nor am I surprised when it happens. I understand that the enemy will play dirty, and even try to use family members and those you intended to support and collaborate with me. I am not unaware of the enemy's devices, and I give him no place. I do not receive messages that come from a cut-off, withering branch, a terrorist who has already lost, and is coming to nothing. I understand that people in bondage & pain often see through dark lenses, and are easily commandeered by the enemy. My identity is solid in you. I don't need their agreement or approval. I surrender the carnal need to be liked by fallen people. I repent of fearing mere men when in reality, your opinion is the only one that matters. That's because you are holy, true, and good. I need only please you.

I forgive all those who speak against me, and pray specifically for every person who has accused me, that they will be blessed, Father, to encounter the Spirit of Truth and your great grace.

Lord, it was always your plan that my family would be there to support me. In the absence of that, you provide surrogate family members and siblings, spiritual mentors, my team, my tribe, and the body of Christ. I never lack anything!

I surround myself with an inner circle of pure-hearted people who truly hear by the Spirit, who see me by the Spirit, who celebrate, honor, and sharpen me.

I honor myself because I am a child of God, made in your image. I bless myself to fulfill the fullness of potential you placed inside me. I choose and love myself. I forgive myself for all my mistakes, and give myself grace to learn and grow, covered in the blood of Jesus, wearing a robe of righteousness from now through eternity.

You desire for me to walk in dominion and to share my voice with the world.
I take my seat with you in the heavenly realms, Lord Jesus.

Cleansing the Airwaves

Lord, I bring before you all words spoken against me by anyone in my family or community. I pull down every single false utterance spoken against me, in Jesus' name. I take authority to nullify every word curse by the blood of Jesus. I am wrapped in a robe of righteousness and the blood shed on the cross 2000 years ago, is speaking better things about me. It is testifying of my purity and holiness in Christ. I agree with what your blood is saying about me. I do not receive any words spoken against me. Who can bring any charge against God's elect? I forgive and bless those who have cursed me, and pray for each one of them to encounter your love and truth. Thank you, Lord, that I am blessed when people curse me and say all manner of false things against me for your sake. Great is my reward in heaven.

I wear the armor of God and keep my thoughts in alignment with what you say about me, deflecting every fiery dart of the enemy.

There are many banners over me in the spirit realm.
I am…

- Loved
- Valued
- Cherished
- Holy and pure, in Christ
- Have pure motives
- Humble and simple

- Righteous
- Beautiful
- Chosen
- Pursued
- Defended
- Protected
- Covered
- Surrounded
- Secure
- Provided for
- I have all I need and more
- Have a great inheritance. My inheritance in you is better than anything any person ever could have given me.
- My voice is a roar that is heard around the globe.

I am blessed

I am blessed and not cursed. I am the head and not the tail. I am above and not beneath. I am blessed coming & going. Everywhere I go, I am blessed, I am chosen by God, I am loved by God, I am mantled by God, I am empowered by God. I break every curse off my life in the NOJ. I break family curses, I break witchcraft curses, I break word curses. I command every curse to bow right now to the blood of Jesus! I break all curses over my life in JN! Be broken NOW! I am free, I am blessed, I am redeemed, in the NOJ.

Decree the breaking of the curse.
Release a blessing over yourself instead.
Renounce every agreement.

All words spoken against me are now null and void in the realm of the Spirit. I exercise my authority. I will not be intimidated by what some deceived person says about me. Nor by what some witch, warlock, or Christian witch might try to say over me. Their words are not more powerful than the blood of Jesus. The power of the blood is greater than their word curse. All power is given unto Jesus in heaven and on earth. He disarmed the devil, made a show of demon spirits and triumphed over them. He came to dethrone principalities, powers, and demonic rulers. I am free.

"And having disarmed the powers and authorities, he made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them by the cross."—Colossians 2:15

🔗 Clean Covenants

Father, I thank you that by your grace, I have Godly covenants, clean connections, and healthy relationships. I fellowship with those who are walking in the Spirit, in truth, purity, emotional health, and relational maturity. I have good boundaries, healthy expectations of people, equal yokes, and mature communication. I know where I end, and where others begin. I look to you alone to supply all my emotional and relational needs.

I'm aware that when I love someone with natural affection, it can open me to be influenced by their wants, needs, and views. I can be tempted to value their perspectives and their opinion of me, because I care about them.

So, I'm discerning about who I let into the inner halls of my heart.
I reserve my loyalty and intimacy for those who are walking in maturity in the Spirit, in freedom.
And I do not cast my precious pearls before swine.
I pursue friendships with healthy, Spirit-led people.
I ask for glorious and divine connections in my life.
As I walk deep in the Spirit, and in integrity, health, and power, you draw like people to me.

Lord, my loyalty is to you before my own biological family or closest friends.
"Whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my mother, brother, and sister."

I am privileged to be part of the most healthy, functional, loving, and prosperous family on the face of the earth. I am privileged to be in community with the most passionate, bold, radical, joy-filled people on the planet. I am privileged to be part of the most radical revolution on the face of planet earth.

Thank you for the wonderful relationships you've brought into my life, Giver of all good gifts.

I don't respond to false accusation

- Lord, I understand how the enemy works. He tries to use people to accuse me, and tempts me to engage with the accusations, defend myself, lose hold of my true identity, and dance on a stage that is not mine; a total waste of time.
- You are my defender.
- I reject every accusation people say or even think against me. I believe your truth about me. I know who I am in Christ. I engage with those who are on a genuine search for truth.
- I receive feedback and accountability from those who are free and whole, who are walking in the Spirit and who demonstrate the fruits of your Spirit.
- I am established with you in truth. Any spoken or unspoken accusations can not stick. They roll off me like water off a duck's back.
- I repent of getting defensive, as if I needed to prove myself to fallen people, who are determined to misunderstand me anyway. I do not need to prove myself to anyone. It's your opinion of me that matters. Why? Because you're the only one seeing me with perfect clarity and selfless love.
- I only need to please one person: you.

I don't submit to control & manipulation

- I do not yield to manipulation, pressure, or control.
- I do not operate from guilt. I make choices from a place of wisdom and Godly strength—power, love, and a sound mind.
- If I've given anyone partial control over my emotions and identity, I take it back now.
- The invitation may be there, loud and clear in the spirit realm. Inviting me to engage with dysfunction, pulling me back into its unhealthy dance. I will not engage. I am healthy and I will not be pulled into an unhealthy dynamic with a broken person. I will remain in my true identity.
- When I stand my ground against a controlling spirit, it will react by accusing me and guilting me. I am not afraid to stand up for what I discern. I am not afraid of the conflict that will come, or the accusations. Because I know who I am.
- Safe people love my "No."
- I will not try to control the other person, or demand a response that fits my needs. I will not try to manipulate someone else for a certain outcome.
- Boundaries are about me respectfully letting the person know what I will do, not me controlling what they will do, or changing them. I detach from their choices.
- I will shine, communicate as the Spirit leads, and let people respond as they will.
- I recognize when I am dealing with a demon and when I am dealing with a person. My war is not against people but against spirits.

I don’t enable the victim spirit

- The victim spirit on other people works by exploiting my compassion. It does not motivate as the Holy Spirit motivates. Its primary tools are guilt and worry.
- The victim spirit does not want to be healed by God, but to have its brokenness validated by man.
- I recognize this is the working of a spirit, and the person may not even be aware of it.
- I genuinely desire to help people and see them healed. But this spirit exploits and manipulates that desire, pulling me into battles I can’t win. Pulling me into situations that won’t bear fruit. Pulling me into dynamics that drag me down instead of pulling the other person up.
- It uses false responsibility, getting me to take responsibility for the inner decisions only that person is capable of making for themselves.
- It sets me up on a stage, putting me on trial as to whether or not I can help this person, setting me up for failure, and measuring my value based on that failure.
- Yet I am not responsible for this person's healing. Only they can make the profound and deep surrenders of the will that will lead to freedom.
- I acknowledge that I can only help a person if they want it.
- The victim spirit leads this person to outsource their personal responsibility onto me. They think their security, worth, and feelings are dependent upon me and how I treat them. This is a lie.
- Unfortunately, when a person is choosing victimhood—the more I try to meet their need, comfort the pain they’re choosing, or tell them what they want to hear—the more I empower them to outsource their God-given identity onto someone else.
- As long as they are depending on me instead of God, my efforts to help will only lead them into more idolatry and bondage.
- They want me as a bandaid. Something to temporarily cover the pain… but never get to the root of the problem.
- If I remove their pain and the natural consequence of their choices, they are deprived of the very thing that may drive them to repentance.
- If I keep showing up and giving them my intimacy, even when they are doing things to undermine intimacy, I am essentially lying. Pretending like there is trust when there isn’t. Faking a relationship, when it’s just a toxic dependency.
- The victim spirit tries to powerfully seduce me with a magnetic pull, using guilt, worry, and fear to motivate me. It uses the fear of man, the desire to please people, the fear of hurting someone’s feelings, the fear of their pain. It uses accusations against my character, telling me I’m a bad person. It entangles me with their emotions, tricking me into thinking their feelings and reactions are my responsibility. I take notice: None of these motivations come from God. None of them have the stamp of power, radiance, nobility. Just fear and guilt, slave-driving me.
- This spirit can easily manipulate Christians since we are taught to serve others sacrificially. But this is different. This is not strong, sacrificial love. This is failure to discern what's really operating. This is weak, enmeshed love that doesn't know its own identity, and is too insecure to stand up to the person and do what it will really take to help them.

- That gravitational pull can be especially strong when it's a family member, because of how much I love them.
- As long as I come under the influence of that spirit to obey it, I too may become demonized. That's because I am hearing the demands of a demon spirit, yielding to it, and obeying it… instead of God's voice.
- This is NOT how the Holy Spirit leads.
- Obeying a victim spirit on someone out of false "compassion" is not the same thing as being led by the Spirit of God.
- God's love is strong, clean, pure.
- The Kingdom of God looks like: righteousness, peace and joy in the HS.
- I can smell those toxic dynamics and dark voices a mile away, and I do not confuse them with the voice of God.
- If it sounds like pressure, worry, guilt, fear, it is not the voice of God.
- Even if I can discern that this person is in a dire situation, heaven still responds from a place of power and strength and clarity, not guilt and fear.
- The Holy Spirit speaks with clarity and peace, showing me the spiritual dynamics at play, showing me what the person really needs. Showing me divine solutions that will actually bear fruit.
- My identity is strong in the Lord, and I do not need the person's approval. I do not succumb to their accusations, or have a need to play to their expectations. This frees me to love them as God loves them—not from a needy, weak, entangled place that is actually protecting their demons—but with a strong, holy, pure love.
- Real love is freely given and doesn't need to use pressure.
- Real love is led by the impulses of the Holy Spirit, not the demands of a demon.
- Since I'm already whole, I don't need them to love me back, respect me, or treat me right.
- I'm not responding from woundedness or fear of rejection. I have no need to self-protect, defend my motives, or preserve the relationship. After all, the relationship is toxic, so I would only be preserving a false sense of intimacy at best.
- I am not responding based on what will or won't hurt their feelings. This is a poor measure of determining what action I should take.
- If they are in bondage, I won't be surprised by dysfunctional behavior. I will stop expecting healthy behavior from someone who is currently unhealthy. This only leads to repeated disappointment and pain.
- I am separate from them. I know where I end and they begin. I don't try to change them or let their wounded accusations dictate to me.
- This frees me to respond in a healthy way. In a way that is truly loving.
- I understand that you can't change anyone unless they want it. It has to come from a place of self-initiative.

- As much as I may desire to meet their needs, I won't meet their emotional needs as long as they are asking for it in that unhealthy way. I won't empower that demon, or their dependence on me.
- Sometimes love is tough.
- As I withdraw myself from illegitimately meeting their emotional/ identity needs, this spirit will do everything it can to suck me back into its gravitational pull. It will accuse me of hurting them. It will make me speculate about all the terrible things that could happen. It will accuse me of being a villain. This spirit uses guilt. It uses pressure, worry, fear, and threats. CLEARLY, that is not the voice of God.
- It's all toxic, so I won't engage it in the way it's pulling me; in the way it's trying to entrap me in a battle I can't win. I will move in the anointing of the HS.
- When I am moving in the power of the Spirit, it will feel holy, strong, secure, and pure.
- I will not do what they want me to do, but what the HS tells me to do.
- It may hurt their feelings. In fact it may be one of the hardest things they ever go through. But allowing them to go through temporary pain is better than partnering with the demons that are trying to permanently destroy them.
- No matter what the enemy may say, I am not responsible for the choices they may make as a result of my boundaries. We'll all answer to God for how we respond to the circumstances we face.
- Yes, it's painful to watch someone I love hurt. I need to remember that they will be hurt no matter what I do, because currently they have chosen the lens of a victim.
- In the long run, my withdrawing from enabling their toxic behavior may be one of the best things that ever happens to them.
- What can I do to help someone with a victim spirit?
    - I can model freedom in my own life. Maybe it will inspire them to want it too.
    - I can pray for them.
    - I can refuse to enable the dysfunctional behavior. I can set boundaries and refuse to be the bandaid that temporarily eases their pain, but never fixes the wound.
    - I can respect their free will and choice even if I don't agree. God does.
    - I can stay sensitive to the HS. I can move when he moves, instead of when the victim spirit tries to tug on me.
    - I can get in touch with what I want and desire in the relationship, instead of channeling what they want and desire.
- One thing is for sure: I will not engage in a way that's unhealthy.
- I will not pet the victim spirit in another person.
- I will not try to provide a person's sense of worth and validation, something they can only get from God.
- I won't try to step into God's role in their life.
- I do not answer to people for how I choose to love them. Sometimes love requires discomfort, conflict, or difficult confrontations. I answer to God for how I treat people. I go straight to the Holy Spirit and mature counselors for feedback—not to people in bondage.

- Lord, sometimes I can feel that demon spirit tugging on me and pulling me, trying to get me to engage, trying to get me to soothe their loneliness and validate their narrative. Making me afraid of what will happen if I don't. Afraid of hurting them. I WILL NOT OBEY THAT SPIRIT. Holy Spirit, how would you have me respond to this person? Teach me to love them as you love them.
- I trust them to you today. You love them more than I ever could.

No one is on the planet to meet my needs

- No one has the power to make me think a certain way about myself. No humans. No demons.
- My healing, deliverance, and wholeness is not dependent upon another person in any way.
- I ask your forgiveness for ever yielding to or submitting under another voice instead of yours.
- No one has the ability to make me angry or frustrated. No one has the ability to make me step outside the character of Christ.
- I take full ownership of my responses, reactions and thoughts.
- I will not allow sin committed against me to produce sin within me.
- Jesus, even when you were kicked and beaten, you took full responsibility for how you reacted.
- If I have allowed anyone to hurt me or influence the way I see myself, I repent.
- If I've given anyone control over how I see myself, I repent.
- NO ONE has power over my will or emotions.
- No one has the ability to tarnish the beauty of my identity in you.
- I am not a victim of anyone or anything. I'm not a victim of any person, circumstance, or demon. I have the power of the 3rd person of the Trinity living in me. God gives me all things I need for life and godliness.
- I operate from a heavenly kingdom that cannot fail and cannot lose. In every situation, I see an opportunity to shine and sow seeds.
- I release people from any expectation to meet my needs.
- I trust you implicitly to meet all my needs.
- They answer to you, not me.
- I do have God-given desires, and I celebrate those desires. But I look to your hand to meet them. Sometimes you do that through people, but you are always the Source.
- I do not need people to change for me to be ok.

- Because I am completely whole and overflowing, and don't need them to treat me a certain way, I have clarity to respond in such a way that they will be blessed and touched by you.
- Because you are with me, I am literally never alone.
- I repent of trying to validate my God-given value, purpose, or giftings through any man.
- Relationships with people are for my enjoyment, not my life source.
- My emotional stability comes from my Father, who never changes—not people.
- I am satisfied in you.

🙏 Prayers for Family

Controlling Parent

- I break every ungodly covenant, unclean tie, and unhealthy emotional attachment to this parent.
- I pull down every word curse she has spoken against me. They are null and void. The blood of Jesus is stronger than my parents' words, and is speaking better things about me.
- Any ungodly prayer they pray that is not in accordance with your will, I cancel by the blood of Jesus.
- My emotions are mine, and their emotions are theirs. My emotions and thoughts are separate and will not be entangled.
- I don't owe anyone my friendship or intimacy. Real love and intimacy can never be compelled.
- I will not carry their baggage.
- I will not take responsibility for what is rightfully theirs.
- I will not come under guilt or manipulation.
- I will not carry their pain and misery.
- I am separate from them.
- I am an autonomous adult and so are they.
- If I engage with them, it will be in a healthy and free way, not because I feel forced.
- I will not respond to the voice of guilt. I want to help people, but I can't help them unless they want it. If all they want is for me to validate their brokenness, pain, deception and misbehavior, I won't do that. I won't participate in strengthening their bondage or empowering it. I know the difference between true compassion and weak enabling.

- I am not responsible for their actions, beliefs, choices, feelings, or outcomes.
- I am not responsible for their healing or deliverance.
- I respect their free will.
- When I text or call this parent, it's by the Spirit, with true, strong love and discernment, and by my own free choice, from a place of wholeness and health. Never out of fear, worry, guilt, obligation, or pressure.
- I don't engage or empower the rejection spirit or the victim spirit.
- I don't receive any false accusations. I don't need to defend myself to anyone.
- I come out from under that demonic pressure to parent them.
- My love toward them is pure.
- I have no obligation to be party to a conversation that is word cursing someone.
- If my parent reacts poorly to something I do, it doesn't mean I did something wrong. I'm responsible for me. They is responsible for them.
- I take full responsibility for how I respond to this parent.

Prayers for a controlling family member

- I love them with your strong love.
- I honor them as my mother / father, and someone who is made in your image.
- I bless them in Jesus' name.
- I forgive them for the sins they've committed against me.
- I trust them into your hands today, because you love them more than I ever could, and you alone are able to help and heal them.
- I repent of any words I spoke against them, and nullify those words now in Jesus name, asking your forgiveness. I will not partner with the enemy's accusations against them. But I stand with you, hoping and believing all things are possible, seeing and calling forth their potential.
- Give them eyes to see and ears to hear by your Spirit.
- I pray for them to encounter your love and truth. I pray that your Spirit will lead them to true, Godly repentance. I pray for your purposes and plans for their life to be fulfilled. Protect them from deceptive spirits that seek to lead them astray. Expose those spirits to them. Guide them into all truth.
- Give me your eyes and heart for her, and teach me how to pray for her in accordance with the groanings of your Spirit.

Thank you Lord, that this relationship has been cleansed by your blood. As far as concerns me, I will engage in a healthy way in this relationship. I trust you to guide me.

Cleansing a soul tie with an unbelieving family member

Lord, I cleanse this relationship in the blood of Jesus. I am seeking for it to be clean and holy before you.
Lord, I acknowledge that the impulse for connection & intimacy has been strong, because your original design was for intimacy with our family members. But I understand and know that this is not appropriate right now.
I can't welcome him into my inner circle right now.
I protect the innermost halls of my heart with a holy vengeance.
My walls are strong and my gates are calibrated to let in only those who are safe for me.
My family is comprised of those you have led me to be equally yoked with.
Right now, I can spend time with them only if I'm able to keep them in the outer courts of my heart.
I am not affected by atmospheres; I affect atmospheres. I am confident your truth.

I'm in a better position to help them if I fear you first, live in integrity to myself and the Gospel.
I'm in a better position to help them if I'm not living in compromise because of sentiment.
I'm in a better position to help them if I don't have an agenda or personal need to change or control them.
If I genuinely desire their eternal good above my temporary comfort.
If I genuinely respect their free will as you do.
If I genuinely operate from a place of peace and power, instead of rejection wounding and a deficit of intimacy, causing me to look for love in the wrong places.
I'm in a better position to help them if I'm not getting caught up in negative emotional dynamics.
I am in a better position to help them if I don't fear them—don't fear offending them or losing them, don't fear the emotional distancing that may be happening in the natural right now.
I'm in a better position to help them If I love them with a strong love, not a needy love. If I'm not tempted to preserve false intimacy.
I'm in a better position to help them if I'm fully delivered, whole, and free, walking in the radiance of my calling, because my soul ties and covenants are clean.
I'm in a better position to help them if I'm not afraid of hurting his feelings. Offending the flesh is so often the very thing that you use to lead someone to repentance. I won't withhold that gift from people.

I am not unaware of the enemy's devices.
His strategy is to use this person to gain access to my heart and affections, in order to wound me and discourage me.
I am not naive to this.
I cannot be equally yoked with them at this time.
I will not expect them to meet needs that they are not capable of meeting right now.

It's expected that as I pull away, the enemy will create opportunities to reconnect, and try to tug on those old heartstrings.
I see by the Spirit and I respond by the Spirit's leading. Not my natural sight or the enemy's sneaky invitations.
I am committed to engaging with them only in ways that are healthy and righteous.

I love them with your strong love.
You love them more than I ever could, Father, so I trust them to you.
Father, you know what they need. You know how to speak to them personally.
I trust you to lead me day by day, to guide me prophetically, and to show me what is needed in each interaction and season of my relationship with them.

I break every ungodly covenant, unclean tie, and unhealthy emotional attachment to _____ in the spirit and soulish realms. I break spiritual covenant with them, and separate myself from unclean soulish or spiritual ties to them.
I pull down every word curse or false utterance they have spoken against me. I decree that every word they have spoken against me is now null and void in the realm of the Spirit. The blood of Jesus is stronger than their words, and is speaking better things about me. The blood of Jesus is proclaiming my holiness in Christ.
I forgive them for any wrongs they've done to me.
I bless them IJN.
I understand that I am not wrestling against people, but against spirits.

I pray for them.
Let them come to know you as a loving Father.
Lead them into truth.
Tear the scales off their eyes. Unstop their ears.
Give them eyes to see and ears to hear.
Teach me how to pray for them in agreement with your Spirit.

I surrender my family to you and pray for their salvation. I trust them to you, because you love them more than I ever could.
I release every sense of control over them and their destiny, and trust them to you.

I cleanse all my covenants in the blood of Jesus and declare that my relationships are holy and clean.

👀 Discernment w/o Accusation

It is written: "So from now on we regard no one by the flesh (from a worldly point of view)… If anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come: The old has gone, the new is here! God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting people's sins against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation." 2 Cor 5:16-19

Father, I will not be used as an Intercessor or touchpoint for Satan's narrative about someone.
I will not join with The Accuser's agenda toward someone. I will always agree with your redemptive purposes in their life.
Lord, give me eyes to see people as you see them.

I love my brothers and sisters in Christ.
I have grace for their flaws and mistakes while they're learning and growing, just as God has grace for me.
I see them by the Spirit and call out what's true.
God is their judge, not me.
Love covers a multitude of sins.

The Father's love is big enough for all of us, and each of us.
I celebrate my brothers & sisters stepping into their gifts, and cheer them on.
I celebrate my own gifts just as I celebrate everyone else's.
We're all on the same team.
One person's victory is a victory for the whole body.
When someone surpasses me in a certain gifting, I'm not threatened, I'm excited! We need everyone on the battlefield, fully activated.
Thank you that comparison is totally crushed, and in its place we have such a beautiful culture of celebrating each other.
Thank you for the unity you're bringing the body of Christ into.

I lack nothing. No good thing is withheld by our good God.
Your love is enough. I'm already loved as much as I ever could be.
I have nothing to prove and nothing to earn.
My cup runneth over.

I carry my gift of discernment with great compassion, wisdom, and maturity.
Thank you for the gift of discerning spirits.

When the Lord honors me with a revelation about someone, I use it to intercede and bring healing, as he leads.
The Holy Spirit never speaks through accusation.
I do not yield to demonic accusation, but to Holy Spirit conviction.
I fully experience God's extravagant forgiveness and grace for me, which is why I'm able to so readily pass it on to others.

When people accuse me and my motives, I'm unaffected.
I'm secure in who I am in Christ.
I go to God for my feedback, and I'm focused on releasing the Kingdom.
Even my mistakes, he can use for the good.
My battle is not ever against people, but against spirits.
I will bless those who curse me.

I silence the voice of accusation IJN. Every time the enemy tempts me to accuse someone, I use it as an opportunity to pray for that person and bless them.

Lord, I pray for your Body to come into unity in the Spirit. To love each other as you have loved us.

🏆 Jealousy is defeated by Honor

I repent of any times I engaged in jealousy, envy, or comparison.
I celebrate their gifts and my gifts.
I pray for and bless those who've had jealousy toward me. I pray for their eyes to be opened to see their own unique beauty and how much you love them.
I cancel the assignment of jealousy IJN.
I speak honor and blessings over myself.
I pray that when people look at me, I will be a source of inspiration, life, and hope, not a source of pain, intimidation, or torment.
My life will testify that dreams are possible, and empower others.
When people look at me, they will be empowered to know it's possible for them too.

🤍 Prayer for Kingdom Marriages

By Arthur Burke

Father God,

We come before you first of all because we are in a blood covenant relationship with Jesus Christ that gives us legal rights.

Father, we acknowledge that—whatever legal ground the enemy has had to block an entire generation from easily finding a Godly spouse—human beings gave this right to the enemy. So we come today corporately speaking on behalf of the brides and grooms. We ask you to open the books of the previous generation.

We confess the negligence, iniquity, and secular mindset of the generations before us that caused this curse. We have all too often tested how much we can lower the standard of sexual purity rather than looking for ways to honor each other. We bring that under the cross, under the blood, and ask for a complete cleansing for the brides and grooms, that today would be a new day, a clean day, a different day, a day where the past is no longer a point of bondage to us, holding us back.

We repent for the lack of reverence, and fear in the men. Lord, forgive the men in previous generations and this generation who have devalued marriage. We ask that you would embed a richness of reverence—reverence for you and the institution of marriage. Release a sense of urgency where the enemy has planted a sense of passivity and complacency among the bridegrooms.

We ask that you would establish dominion, Father. We claim your divine dominion over the brides and grooms, that you alone would influence who is seen, what is seen, when it is seen, and what thoughts are derived from the things that are seen. Let your light shine brightly, let your light shine like a spotlight holding it in one spot, until people have no choice but to recognize what you are saying and doing.

For the men who are in bondage to shame, I ask that dignity from heaven would peirce, penetrate, shatter, and obliterate the mantles of shame the enemy has used to incarcerate the grooms.

Father, we lift you up above the devouring that has taken place and the years that have gone by. May we sanctify this day by our actions and choices, in the same way our forefathers defiled it. Let there be virtue imprinted today.

We thank you for this privilege, the opportunity of touching the limitless power of heaven with our words. We ask you to hear our prayers and give the commands. Let there be a release of the angels of heaven to go and restore order in the lives of all the brides and grooms. We ask this in Jesus' name.

Lord, we rejoice over the omnipotence that you have over every feature of creation. Thank you for all the resources available to us as your people to combat the work of your enemy. We thank you that there is no poverty in heaven, no need, lack, confusion, insecurity. It is because you are the Creator God that we come to you today, lifting up the issue of marriage which was the first social institution that you established. It was so significant to you that you personally oversaw the process. You designed and brought the man and woman together. We thank you for your vested interest in marriage; in our marriages.

Let today be a day where there is significant movement forward. Let today be a day where your voice is heard, your purposes are heard, understood, and obeyed, and men & women are in that precisely right timing and position to be able to meet their spouse.

Father, we speak also to the filters the enemy creates about your nature. Let there be a significant warring by your army against the misperception of who you are. For these men & women that you've called and designed, let there be a revelation of your nature that would transform their view of themselves. Let there be an immensity of release in revelation of your nature today.

We ask that there be no wasted pain. Let there be in your hand the amazing miracle that what the enemy intended for harm, you use for good. You use for immensity, for excellence, for the transformation of our lives, so that when the husbands & wives come together, there would be a richness and fullness to their marriage, not just a delay and loss of time. We ask that for each man & woman that comes together in marriage there would be an extraordinary richness because of the time that has passed. Let each day be used, redeemed and sanctified by you so the world is transformed.

Father we celebrate the fact that you are so capable of reaching around the world, you are so gloriously able to interface with the entire group, with the brides and grooms, each one in their different places and walks; and you are able to bring these things to be. We worship a great

God, a God of great power and authority, you are omnipresent and have an unlimited supply of angels to execute your will. So we look forward to your provision in our lives in a thousand different ways. We thank you Father and we commit ourselves to you, trusting your heart and ways, in Jesus' name.

Father, you are extraordinarily, exquisitely, magnificently capable of superseding every single fathering wound and deficit in any man the world over. We present to you the beauty of the men who are in the process of being shaped and molded by you. We celebrate you, Father, for the magnificent work you've been doing to raise up a generation of husbands that will be a treasure to embrace. Men who know how to pass on manhood to the next generation and father their daughters into the full flower of womanhood. We praise you for what you're doing.

Lord, you make a way where there is no way. You part the red sea. We call forth progress & movement, that the men and women will have their paths cross at the right time. We speak a release of motion, we speak movement into this area that has been obstructed for so many years. Touch the men's hearts, make movement in their emotional healing and then release them to Godly pursuit of their brides and to experience the joy of love.

We speak movement, open doors in the spirit, soul & body and in the logistics for these couples that you've crafted to come together, for these men that you've been reparenting and moving into manhood, who are now free and able to take the lead, to make the risk, to know their heart, to embrace marriage. We ask that you bring them to the brides. Let their paths cross.

Father, make a way where there is no way. We ask for accelerated progress. Bring these men & women together in righteous alignment in your timing. That everything the enemy has done to hold them back would be abolished.

Prayers for this generation

We speak to this generation of men: "Wake up. Come forth."
Godly marriages come forth in the name of Jesus.
The preservation of Godly family come forth in the NOJ.
It is time.
Let the world see the heart of God for marriages.

💍 Prayer for when I'm angry at God

Breaking the Primary Lies

Father, the enemy has worked very hard to make me believe you have not provided what I need, and have not been fair to me. I break that wicked lie in the NOJ. The truth is, the enemy is responsible for the health problems, cursed relationships and periods of pain and torment that I've gone through, not you. You came to give me life, and more abundantly. Through generational curses and demonization, the enemy is responsible for stirring up disunity, jealousy, offense, accusations, word curses, and betrayal. He is responsible for breaking apart relationships and attacking my health.

Here is the reality of what has happened:
I have been attacked ferociously and tormented by demons, and you have come to set me free.

When the spirit saw Jesus, it immediately threw the boy into a convulsion.
"If you can do anything, take pity on us and help us."
"If you can?" said Jesus. "Everything is possible for him who believes."
Immediately the father exclaimed, "I do believe, help me overcome my unbelief!"
Jesus rebuked the spirit. "I command you, come out of him and never enter him again."
Mark 9

Jesus, first, I want to say—No circumstance, no amount of suffering will make me slander or distrust my God. You are good and you are faithful. I will rejoice in all circumstances, and I rejoice today in your faithfulness toward me.

No matter how it looks and how the enemy makes it appear, I will trust you, Lord. I put my deepest needs and most agonizing pain into your hands. I rest in you with the faith of a child.

Second—I leave behind the enemy's system, and enter into Covenant with you by faith, praise God. You meet all my needs according to your riches in glory. Thank you so much, Father.

The enemy has also worked very hard to make me spend all my energy suppressing emotions and desires, keeping me in an endless cycle of trying to cope in the midst of a cursed reality, trying to not have needs—when in actuality, I should be standing in radical faith for mighty miracles in my life.

The enemy is the father of lies, and he has been lying to me that I will just have to find ways to cope with the pain. This is a lie from the very pit of hell.

You created me for community, spiritual unity, excellent health, total union with you, divine fruitfulness, wonderful friendships and abundant life. The longing actually shows what is right with me. The enemy uses religious language to make me try to be content without it. I break off this wicked cycle in the name of Jesus. I say, STOP. Sickness and disease are from the devil. Financial lack is from the devil. Isolation is from the devil. Scripture is very clear: you want me to prosper and be in good health.

💍 Kingdom Marriage

The Father's Heart for Marriage

Father, I come before you solemnly because I know that my marriage has the attention of heaven.
That you yourself are personally seeing to this matter.
That it's vastly more important to you than it is to us.
You have things that you are wanting to see happen in the world.
You are looking for Kingdom marriages to bring breakthrough on behalf of this generation.
Your perspectives are so much bigger than our wildest imaginings.

Repentance

Lord, I stand in a posture of repentance. Please forgive me and my ancestors for our sins. I repent on behalf of the family for sexual iniquities, for hurting each other, for divorce, adultery, fornication, for embracing the world's ways. Please forgive us. I repent of small thinking and wrong views of your nature. Let your blood now cover and blot out my transgressions and iniquity. I choose your design for marriage and sexuality.

Thank you for your forgiveness. Thank you for the blood of Jesus blotting out every curse, covering every transgression. I believe that your blood has cleansed me from all sin and canceled every curse.

Covering my Marriage in the Blood

The weapons of my warfare are MIGHTY in God for pulling down strongholds, and I pull down every attack that rises against my marriage in Jesus' mighty name.

I dedicate my marriage to the Lord Jesus Christ.
I cover myself, my spouse, and my marriage in the precious blood of the Lamb.
HS, I invite you to speak into my marriage & life. I reject every other voice.
I banish all anxiety & unbelief. The voice of trauma and disappointment be silenced forever in Jesus name!

I pull down every false utterance spoken against my marriage in Jesus' name.
All soulish prayers, judgements, accusations trying to come against my marriage, I nullify in the blood of Jesus. I pull them down.
I break the spirit of jealousy off me and my husband in JMN. The blood covers us & deflects every attack.
It is written: No weapon formed against us will prosper!

Father, send confusion into the enemy's camp, scramble their communication and foil every strategy. Divide them and dismantle every structure that tries to organize against us.

I bless my marriage in the name of Jesus.

💎 Finances

Mark 8:19-21

"And you shall remember the LORD your God, for it is He who gives you power to get wealth, that He may establish His covenant which He swore to your fathers, as it is this day."
Deuteronomy 8:18

The Lord be magnified who delights in the prosperity of his servant.

Favor will surround you as a shield.

Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Test me in this," says the Lord Almighty, "and see if I will not throw open the floodgates of heaven and pour out so much blessing that there will not be room enough to store it. Malachi 3:10

Bless you abundantly, so that in all things, at all times, having all that I need, I abound in every good work.
2 Cor 9:8

Covenant Finances

I operate under a different economy than the world.

I am in covenant with you. All I have is yours and all you have is mine.

I don't worry about my life, what I'll eat, drink or wear. Life is more than physical realities. The birds don't plant, gather or store up, yet you feed them. I'm much more valuable than they are. The flowers don't work, yet not even Solomon was dressed like one of them. If that's how you clothe the grass, that's how you'll clothe me. I'm not going to worry about how to pay for the things I need. That's what the pagans do. I seek first your kingdom and righteousness, and all these things are added to me as well. (Matt 6)
Thank you, Lord.

I am honored to be in total union with you.
The very idea of lack has left my mind forever.
Abundance, blessing, generosity, good stewardship, and overflow characterize every part of my life.
I live by the Spirit, following your voice each day.
The strength of our relationship is the trust we share.
You will not breach our trust by letting me down in the coming months, and I will not breach our trust by entertaining doubt and unbelief.
You said you would provide for me, and you never break your word.
As a daughter, I make every decision based on what your Spirit is saying, not based on money.
I'm not waiting for a breakthrough; I'm walking in Covenant.

I have a Dad who loves to bless me and care for my needs.
I trust my life and needs into your hands. I depend on you wholly.

I want to thank you for the way you covered all my financial needs while I was going through deliverance. Thank you for every miraculous check and provision. Thank you for giving me the time I needed to get free and rest. I appreciate it, Father.

Forgive me for the times I put my trust in man (and that includes trusting in myself). I repent of that. I declare that all my fountains are in you. I trust in you, never man, to meet my all needs.

I remove all old structures and natural ways of seeing finances, and step into your supernatural view.

You are able to bless me abundantly, so that in all things, at all times, having all that I need, I abound in every good work. 2 Cor 9:8

Thank you so much, Father.

Father, I know you're looking for bold people who will say, "I believe that the God who created the very concept of economy is the God that can open doors of favor for us." I answer that call.
I have bold, radical, audacious dreams, and I dare to believe you for them.
We are gonna step forward as Prophetic entrepreneurs and Spirit-led wealth builders, and we are gonna do something audacious for you.
God, bring forth wildly innovative apostolic builders. Apostolic companies. Extending the nets of harvest, reaching far beyond where we've seen before.
Connect me with the right partners, who are walking in radical integrity and purity.
Mobilize us for the harvest, let new ideas come to us for how to reach people.
Give us resources for mighty exploits, IJN.

Kris Vallotton 8 differences between wealth and poverty thinking:

1. Poverty lives for today, wealth leaves a legacy.
2. Poverty finds a problem in every opportunity; while wealth finds an opportunity in every problem.
3. Poverty feels entitled, while wealth feels empowered.
4. Poverty fears the future, while wealth makes history.
5. Poverty blames others for its condition, wealth takes responsibility for things that aren't its fault.
6. Poverty asks, "What're you going to do for me?" Wealth asks, "Who's worthy of my investment?"
7. Poverty hangs around disgruntled people who validate their accusations. Wealthy people surround themselves with powerful influencers.
8. Poverty votes for candidates that increase their entitlements. Wealth elects officials who will sacrifice today's comfort for tomorrow's children.

📣 Social Media & Messages

I cleanse my relationship to computers, phones, devices, internet, and social media in the blood of Jesus. I will not form any ungodly attachment to it or dependency on it. I release the atmosphere of your presence there and reject every other influence. I don't go there to get my needs met, I go there to release the Kingdom.

I am not influenced by the wisdom of the world that is being released on those platforms. I know who I am in Christ. I am proud to represent the Truth.

I don't ever look to texts, emails, messages, notifications, likes, comments, or responses to ascertain my value, worth, influence, connectedness, or anointing. You don't ascribe value that way and neither will I. I see by the Spirit, and all my fountains are in you. I have a wonderful,

Godly face-to-face friendships and a wonderful marriage. I'm wise and discerning in my connections.

❤️‍🩹 Validating how hard it's been

Lord, it's been hard for a very long time, working under the enemy's bondage and yoke. Trying to provide for myself while going through a health crisis. Working through pain, afraid of making it worse. Dealing with the frustration of so little progress. Constantly struggling financially. Constantly stressed and tired. I want to honor the way I pushed through, through so much pain and exhaustion and without much support. I recognize and validate the struggle, the overwhelm, and the sense of abandonment. I recognize the length of time this exhaustion was sustained. I recognize the pain of being misunderstood and not heard. I recognize the greatest pain of all, which was the feeling of being so alone in it, and so unsupported by my family. I honor the greatness of staying faithful to my values and pursuing my dream in the midst of it all.

Father, I ask you to validate my pain, and heal my heart and mind from all the years of struggle and heartache.

Lord, it seems like all this time, I haven't been able to acknowledge how hard it's been. It's like I wasn't allowed to feel those feelings, because I had to be strong. Even when I did ask for help, I was usually condemned and accused for being a victim and entitled. So I pushed down a lot of emotions and even condemned myself if the feelings started to surface. Today, I want to recognize the great suffering that I went through, and say to myself: I see you. I'm sorry for all that you suffered. It was not supposed to be that way. It was not God's design that you go through a crisis alone.

Lord, I can see that this experience has taught me wrong thought processes about money, time, and work. Even now I feel the deep desire to be supported, to have help and co-laboring, and to have rest.

I acknowledge these legitimate desires and needs, and the correct instincts of my hearts, while also acknowledging that we must trust you as our primary source, not man.

Turning to a victim mindset was not the most helpful response, but I didn't know then what I know now. I didn't know supernatural healing and provision were available. I didn't know how to avoid wrong mindsets, or what those mindsets would produce. I forgive myself for every mistake I made in the midst of pain, trauma, curses, and bondage. I do not condemn myself, but extend compassion to myself.

Yes, I've had to be very strong on my own for a very long time. But now, I want to learn to let you do all the hard work.

Now, I want to enter your Covenant and your economy. Your yoke is easy and your burden is light.

And so, I want to turn the page on old things. I want to turn away from every sense of lack and natural striving over my work and finances. I want to trust you. I want to have right expectations toward people. I want to enjoy my work without associating it with overwhelm and lack of help. I want to have an abundance view of money. Please help me learn to rest in you. Help me learn your Kingdom thoughts toward these things. I now ask you to be my support, provider, comforter, and help. And to send people to fill those roles too, in a healthy, Godly way.

It's been hard to lay down old mindsets, Lord. But I realize now that that's partly because my suffering hadn't been validated, even by me. So I again want to acknowledge your Kingdom model for family and church to be there for me. Your plan was never divorce, blended families, abandonment, or sickness. Please heal my heart.
