Ecology

Lesson 2.4

2.4.5 Food Chains and Webs with Energy Lab

This lab is a concrete visual way to show energy transfer and loss within food chains of various length. Your teacher will set-up the cups and buckets and show you where to stand outside using chalk X's and O's. People with buckets should be extra careful not to spill and measure their water levels before and after the activity.
Energy Transfer lab