Entry from u/Corrinae

-Don't use reddit often but I've figured out the next step. Transcribing the notes from the audio file using an Acéré cypher brings back the phrase "LOOKINGGLASS". If you add that onto the URL, you get a new page that links to a new dropbox folder with hundreds of pictures. It looks like it's every single frame from the little video that's on the imgur page.

EDIT: Turns out that was just morse code that spells FACES. Putting that brings you to new audio on Soundcloud with some weird version of 'The First Wish'.

EDIT 2: Description of the Soundcloud link is an anagram of 'chance'. That leads to a new deviantart link but that's where I'm stuck at right now differenteyes.io/chance links to the image below, the filesize of which is 5.21 Megabytes, which is the release date of the virtual art exhibit of the choices we face as noted by u/BAUDAHH

New website in twitter video - Source code says to check back later. In the tweet there are some letters capitalized without reason ("Let's Take it as it Comes"). LTC. As of writing (2:47 PM, Chicago time) adding this to retrospective.site/ Yields a 404 error
