

Hello Stephen,

I really like how you have expanded from quality knives to high-quality apparel. Your company stands out with its genuine pride like no other company I have ever seen.

I found your website while searching for how to remove nicks from my father's old knife. That's when I discovered the videos.

I visited the About Us page. I can enhance its connection with the customers since I already have templates and can customize one specifically for you.

Up for it?
