

Persona 5 AU: Everything Goes Wrong Info Sheet (THIS IS THE OLD VERSION)

An AU where nothing seems to go right, everything goes wrong. And only seems to get worse the further you go.

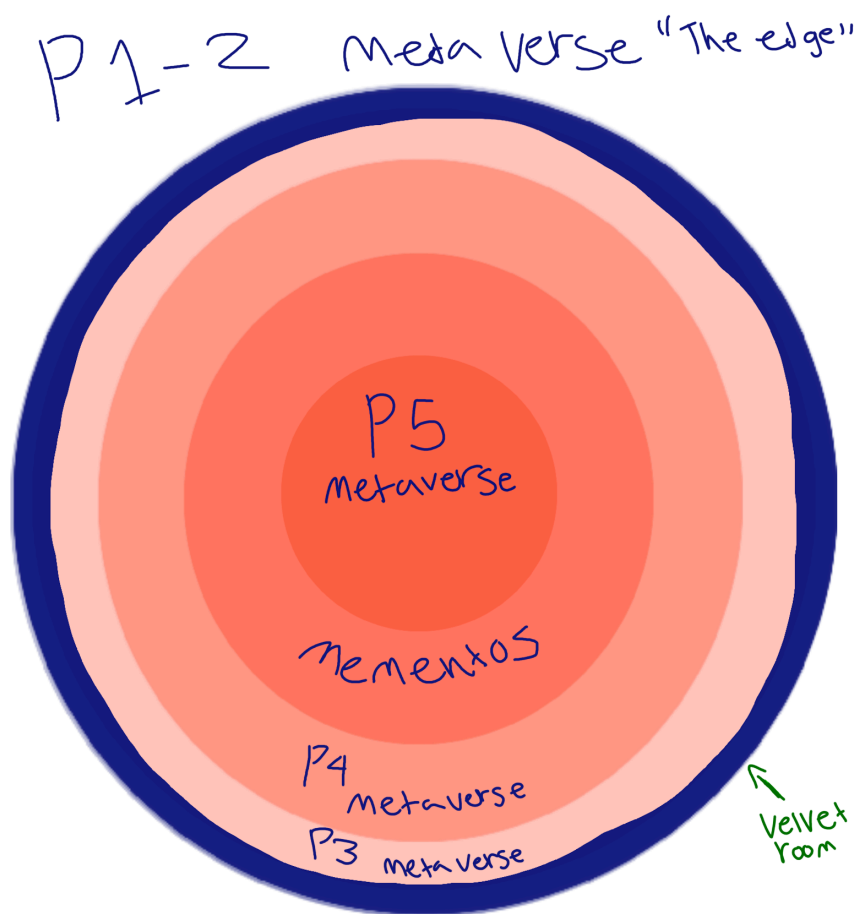

Here, we will go into great detail about the world of EGW. (STORY IS WIP AND WILL COME SOON)

[All persona games (1-5) and parts of the series have been fused into one. All their Metaverses are linked together, it all will be explained.

(With help from my friends Kitten, Hiro & Gage)

Metaverse

The Metaverse in this AU has been severally expanded as seen here.

There are several layers to the Metaverse. The Persona 5 being the middle, where the weakest shadows linger. Next is the mementos, Though it goes down instead of sideways. Then it goes Persona 4 (Which acts as a quick travel), then 3. And the edge of it all is the Velvet room, a thin strip separating it from the Edge of the metaverse, where the strongest shadows are.

Though hidden in the edge of the metaverse is the Meta-Biome. This is where humans who had personas get revived while being fused with their personas. Here they get a second chance at life, though not normal as it used to. They also keep what arcana they had before they died.

When they get transported to the Meta-Biome from the sea of souls, they are the age they are when they die and do not age from that point on.

The personas that live in the Meta-Biome are much stronger than your average persona. Since they were humans and fused with their persona, their power doubled when this occurred. While they can become personas, it's no easy task. They have a very high chance to disobey orders, Attack you if they don't like you, and may just talk back to you. Which is why they are very rare to have.

Species/Types of Human fused Personas

1. Huadona (Human / Shadow / Persona)
2. Personadows (Persona / shadows)
3. Metameta ("Super" Personas. [AKA super powerful])
4. Shams (Human / Shadow)

Can Persona users have Palaces in this AU?

Yes, they can! If their desires are corrupted enough, they will still get a palace, But this does cause issues with their persona. Their persona becomes weak, and very fragile. There's even a chance they can disobey the user. This is because their shadow (Or persona, depending how you see it) Is corrupted and only wants their desires. This can actually cause the shadow to control their body if they are in the Metaverse or Mementos.

Now, there's also another side effect if a Persona user has a palace. If it gets to the extreme end of a palace, (And this only goes for Persona users) It may end up what's called a Corelm. (Co-re-lm) A Corelm is basically an entire planet dedicated to their desires. The treasure to the Corelm is usually in the middle of the planet, and acts as the planet's core.

Shadows in the Human Realm and Shadow Behaviour

Yes, Shadows are among the humans in the normal world. They disguise themselves as Humans (Kinda like how Teddie does in Persona 4). Though there are many reasons for them to do this. Just remember, Humans are prey to shadows, Shadows are the predators to Humans, and Personas are predators to Shadows.

Low-Class Shadows have a hard time blending into the Human Realm. Their human disguises are off putting, and bend in ways they shouldn't. You very rarely ever see them around in the Human Realm.

Medium-Class Shadows have it pretty easy. While not perfect, they can blend in pretty well. Though they can still bend their body in unnatural ways, they can do this on command instead of doing it all the time. The only problem they have is talking. Most are pretty bad at any human language and pretend to be mute.

High-Class Shadows are the best at pretending to be human. They look perfectly human, and act almost perfectly. Most can make themselves have fake bones, know many languages, and even can have friends and a family! (Though they usually at some point turn on them).

The only downside to any shadow of any class is the human food. Shadows can not consume human food. It makes them sick. They are unable to digest their food because of how they evolved. {They also don't sleep!}

Shadow Food and their effects on Humans and Persona users

As with any living being, Shadows need to eat. Shadows can eat 3 things in the Metaverse.

Shadow Fruit: Shadow fruit is well, Fruit that grows in the Metaverse from special plants. There are many versions of it and all look different, but taste the same.

Effects on Humans: The fruit is poisonous to humans. It acts like Cyanide to them.

Effects on Persona Users: While they can eat them, it will make them sick.

Human Souls: Yes, Shadows do eat human souls. It's in their nature. Any chance they get they will eat their soul. It's the most valuable food item to them.

Effects on Humans: It would kill them out right. Humans are not supposed to eat other souls!

Effects on Persona Users: Shockingly, They actually can! BUT, Only in the Metaverse. If they were to try to, It would still kill them like a normal human.

Human Flesh: When food is low, They will eat the bodies of humans. While they don't like it as much, if they are hungry enough, they will.

Effects on Humans: What do you expect? Cannibal..

Effects on Persona Users: Same as a human.

Classes Of Persona's, Persona Users & Humans

Persona Classes-

Note: These can be mixed! You can have a Arcana-less Picaro persona. These are just separated to make things more clear!

Arcana Personas: Personas that have Arcanas. The standard Persona.

Unusual Arcana Personas: Personas with weird Arcana's they shouldn't have, or custom Arcanas

No Arcana Personas (Arcana-less): Persona's with no Arcana

Picaro Personas: Personas that have turned Picaro, Making them slightly stronger.

Awakened Personas: Personas that have gone to the next "Stage". Making them stronger and look cooler! (Most times..)

Original Personas (Demon Personas): Personas that are unchanged, un evolved and still fully demon like in the old Shin series.

Reincarnated Personas: Persona's that used to be human.

Persona User Classes-

Arcana Users: Persona users that also have Arcanas (Matched with there Persona)

Arcana-less Users: No Arcana.

Unusual Arcana Users: Odd Arcanas they shouldn't have

Wild Card: Users that have the ability to have more then 1 persona, Fuse Personas & go into the velvet room as a "Guest"

Attendant: Exclusive for Velvet Room attendants. They receive a book that can summon any Persona from there "Metaverse Level"

'Chained': Mind controlled Users that are being controlled up there persona. The Persona is "Chaining" their Soul for their own desires. They hold their soul hostage until either they stop, or the user dies. (Eyes go red when this happens)

Human Classes-

Ordinary: Your everyday human. Nothing special here.

Confident: Humans that have an Arcana but no Persona. If a Persona user befriends them enough, you get special abilities from them. (Normal Arcana and unusual Arcana fall into this!)

Demon Summoner: Humans that have figured out how to use their phones to go to the Meta-Biome and use low-classed to high classed shadows with "Demon Contracts" binding them to their soul. (Thanks Dx2!)

While this is similar to having a persona, There is no awakening. They can also use as many as they want, using from 1-10 at once. Also making them stronger requires sacrifices in a special ritual.

Soul Hackers: Humans that similarly, found a way to get into the Meta-Biome and use shadows. Though instead of Contracts, they use technology to get them to bind to their souls.

Devil Summoners: Again, similar to demon summoners. But they use rituals to summon the shadows, but only the demon originals.

Devil Survivors: Humans that have survived the creation of the Metaverse, and gained an endless lifespan and a shadow companion.

Devil Children: Humans that are created, or born in the Metaverse.

False Shadows [Persona Fighting Force (P.F.F.)]

False shadows are genetically engineered shadows created by human scientists as a way to fight against Persona users if they were to go rogue.

The scientist called this Persona Fighting Force or P.F.F. Though this completely backfired and turned on them.

False shadows are much smarter than normal shadows. They know how to manipulate Persona users and make them fight with one another. They can also create illusions to help with this. While they are smart, they are very cocky and reckless.

Devil Children & Devil Survivors

For humans that survived the creation of the metaverse, gain an endless lifespan like shadows. The name “Devil Survivors” Comes from how they survived a massive Shadow/demon take over. These humans have been around since the beginning of the metaverse. Though they tend to stay deep in the metaverse, and there the very few humans Shadows will not kill.

The name “Devil Children” comes from how these humans somehow were born/or created in the metaverse. These humans tend to not leave the metaverse, and have a very good relationship with shadows. They can speak Shadow perfectly, and can actually use Shadow spells. Because of this relationship, their eyes can sometimes look inhuman. But they also have this endless lifespan like Devil survivors.

Dragon Stream

Dragon Stream is an Ability most commonly found in the Hotsuin Family (Though other people can have it). It's main use is a Magical Power Source for the JP's Force Field to help project Japan.

If used correctly, you can also use it as a Shield, Attacks (Blasting, Lasers, Magic weapons ect), Flight, Breaking possessions, & Temporary pausing time from 3 mins up to 10 mins at max. Though learning how to use The Dragon Stream is very dangerous and can be life threatening if not trained properly.

The only way someone can get Dragon Stream is if you're born with it. While Hotsuin's seem to always have this ability (It runs in their genes), But it has been found in other family lines.

The reason it runs in some families, or random appearances, Is because of them being part Dragon, or having an ancestor to a dragon. Sometimes, it skips a few people, or generations. Then it pops back up "Out of nowhere". However. Those who are more closely, or directly related to dragons have the Dragon Stream Ability amplified, and become easier to use.

Government Organizations, Rebels, ect

JP's - Japan's secret Government force, using demons to fight.

Hotsuin House Of Command (HHC) - The top world leader. Hotsuin took control of the entire world, leading it by himself. Having Hibiki as his secret weapon, He tells other world leaders what to do. (More info here: [\[ADD LINK HERE\]](#))

People Against Hotsuin's (PAH) - A rebel group to fight against Yamato's control

Septentriones, Administrators, & What They Do

Polaris, otherwise known as the Administrator Of The Heavenly Throne (The North Star). Is a god that was made to protect humans and the universe's balance. Using his sword Alcor, to destroy universes that cause an in-balance.

While all of them (Septentriones) are idle, they appear as the Big Dipper in the sky. But when one or more is active, their respective star is missing. If Polaris is out, The North star is also missing.
