Grade 2:

William Tell Overture

This is one of my favorite lessons for the classroom, and I hope you enjoy it at home.

Today we are going to do a movement challenge! If you remember, we did one in school with the parachute or scarves for the “Can Can” Song, and with instruments for the song “Crazy Frog”.

Read about the William Tell Overture, by Rossini! An Italian OPERA composer.

Go to the second page to complete the MOVEMENT challenge!

When the music changes, go to the next section. Practice first without the music like we do in class.

(Listen to the song here if you don't have Spotify:)

DIY Rainstick: Music, Science, History, and Art

Read all about the history of the Rainstick, an instrument believed to come from Chile! Make sure you read the sidebar info on the right “Make Your Own Rainstick” for my favorite facts!

Rainsticks and folklore

Have you ever seen or played a rain stick? Now is your chance to make your own!

Use the website below to build your rain stick. (Or the one on the last website page)
DIY rain stick craft that actually sounds like rain!

Here’s how to use your rainstick:

Play along with this chilean folk guitarist, listen after to learn about folk music. Find a song YOU like to play the rainstick with if you would like.

HOMEWORK:

Take your time in making your rainstick! It doesn’t need to be built in one day. Be creative and use whatever materials you have, it doesn’t need to be exactly like the example.

Send me a picture of your rainstick, or video demonstration when you have completed this lesson.(: I hope you enjoyed this lesson!
