HSO FORMAT!!

SL: I lacked Discipline because I lacked...

Was working my hardest. I was always an extremely motivated individual.

I gained major growth and success within my skill set.

Surely nothing can stop me. I thought I was indestructible...

Sadly...

1 year ago I lost my one true believer. My mother. She was the closest person to my heart and in the blink of an eye, she was gone...

I had lost all motivation!

I was Distraught!

I wasn't able to feed everything I had grown till this point, so it started to die.

It was only after then I found the SUPERMAN of work, Jason.

He told me motivation wasn't the key to success.

Jason told me that I lacked discipline, and it was all clear!

I was finally gaining growth once again after a month.

All thanks to him!

Jason's secret tips and tricks that helped me grow here.
