 - a. Install Instructions: <https://www.primedesign.net/?wpdmdl=7458>

b.

2. Choose the desired height to mount the spare tire mount at.

3. The only position that won't work is the rung with the label since the ladder does bend at this point.

4. Place the top U-Bolts so that wrap around the side supports and rest down on top of the rung of choice.
5. Tighten nylock nuts so that the rack is snug and doesn't move independent of the ladder.
6. Install spare tire with lug nuts
7. To install the license plate relocation kit (if purchased), bolt it to the ladder in the position shown.

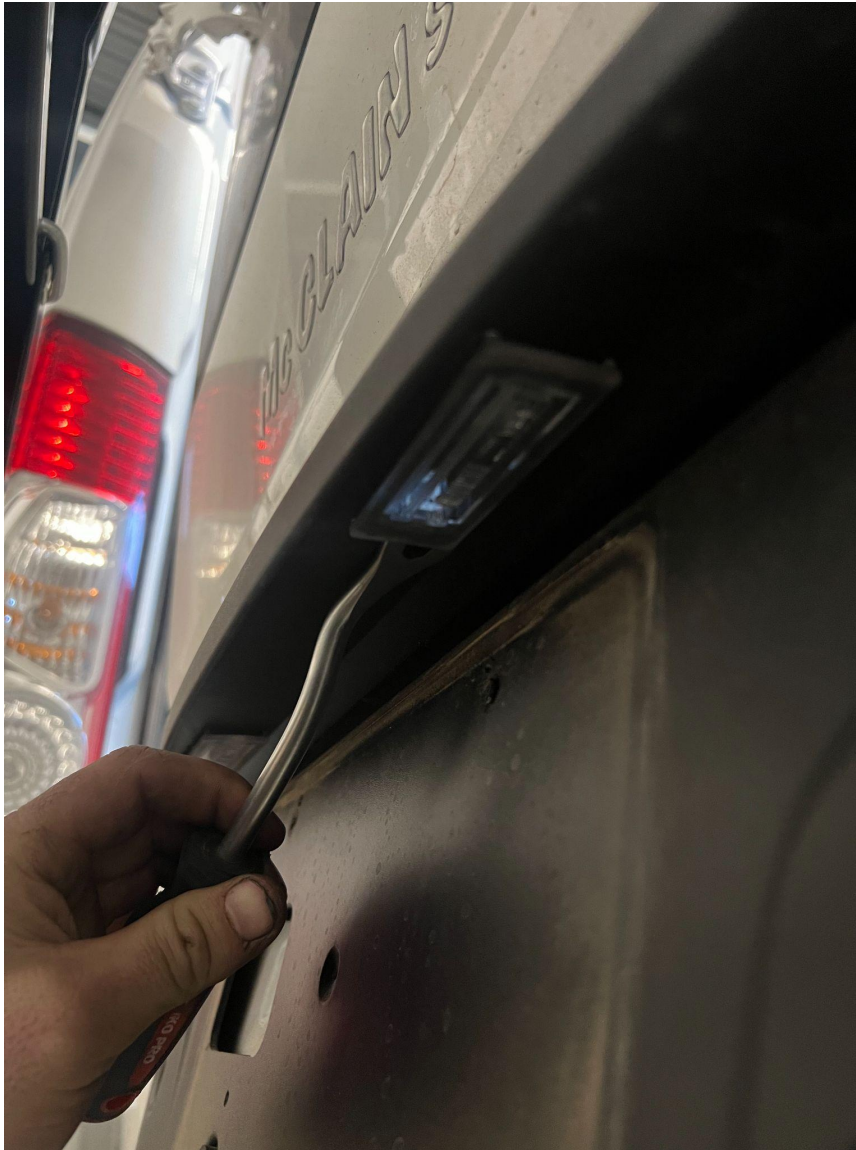

8. Open the rear drivers door to access the inside panel

9. Remove the push clips that hold on the plastic for the door.

10. Once all clips are removed, remove both the panel cover and any insulation in the door. On some builds, the insulation is glued to the door panel and requires a bit of force to remove.

11. Then pry out the right most license plate light cover from the left side and drill a hole large enough for the wire to pass through.

12. Fish the wire up through the hole and use the included wire taps to tap into the existing license plate light wiring. Some of the sheathing may need to be removed. Turn on headlights and make sure the light works.
13. Then seal up then put the panel back on the door.
14. You're all set! Safe travels
