Subject line: It felt like a miracle...

Just when I thought all hope was lost...

For the last two weeks I had no engagement from anyone my emails arrived to.

I was about to go bankrupt because of the lack of customers.

Thus there was no option other than to close it all for good.

Until...

I heard a notification on my phone with the title:

“Emails going unanswered?”

After reading it, I was left with two options.

Either continue with this new strategy, or just give up.

Luckily I decided to keep on moving.

From that point success came after success.

And I have Daniel to thank for that.
