EXPLANATION:

- Within the scope of the Joint Education Model, a student can substitute a maximum of 2 courses in a semester, and a maximum of 3 courses in total throughout her/his education life. The course type and course code to be substituted should be marked in the table below. Assignments of these courses will be made manually by the faculty after the add-drop week. (For example, if a student has 2 courses substituted in the fall semester, she/he has the right to have only 1 more course substituted in the spring semester. She/he can take 3 JEM courses in total.)
- Students have the right to choose a total of 20 credits worth of courses within a semester. Students who want to have 1 course substituted within the scope of the Joint Education Model have to leave 3 credits unselected, and students who want to have 2 courses substituted have to leave 6 credits unselected during the course selection week.
- If the student decides to withdraw from the Joint Education Model; It is obligatory to withdraw only from 1 course during the withdrawal week, if a second course was substituted, it will be counted as F.
- Students who want to have their compulsory internship substituted within the scope of the Joint Education Model must make the compulsory internship course selection through the system during the course selection week and inform the relevant internship supervisor.
