

HOUSE OF DOMI

You have died, but here, in the House of Domi, you can speak with your fellow fallen comrades and the spirits of the watchful. Pick a color to begin speaking.

Mailliw73(GM)

Wilson (Impartial Mod)

Adavantos (Spectator)

Kasimir (Spectator)

Kipper (Spectator) and yay nobody took my color before I got here! (You mean Hael's color? :P) It was my color before Hael was here. :P He just tends to always be in Docs before I get there, because he spectates quite frequently. Well, and dies quite frequently... Though I only started using it as of LG14 (twas my evil doc colour) Ah,well I just asoociate it with him more, sorry. That's why I decided on this color for Heirs and all the docs since. (I believe Sart has used that grey before too ;)) I used to try for this or this in docs, but Meta and Claincy always grabbed blue, and so people thought it was them. And Alv took purple, so I needed my own. :P I have a feeling I will face this problem soon... Big Frowny Face...

Patar (Spectator)

Elbereth (Spectator and Temporary GM)

Seonid (Hoid the Reforger) - very few people take this color until colors start disappearing...

Hael (Fillin-GM) - Aonar, blame Kipper. He stole my colour...

Madagascar - (spectator)

Hellscythe - couldn't I just die to sacrifice :(

Creccio

Clanky

STINK (one of the few non-spectators)

Bridge Boy. Legitimately dead. I think.

This is going to be the doc for both the spectators and the dead. The sad thing is that this doc is already half the size of the game. :P

spectates really hard

spectates harder

This game is going to be interesting without an evil doc. :D I'm excited to see how they play this. Darn, I see that colour and I keep thinking the M'Hael is here >> Ah well. I'm rather interested to see Jain's back in the game. I foresee many clashes between him and some other players, mmmmyessss...He's not even going to know what happened with the metagame. It's going to be beautiful. I hope he goes back to his erratic ways. I want to see some of these new players cope with that. :) Sadly, I think they'll just lynch him, which is quite a pity. Hang in there, Inquisition bro! (Yeah, I have a lot of bros, so sue me. Lopen (not you, Skaa Bro!) has a lot of cousins and he does fine.) Oh, I figure they'll just lynch him, but if he keeps it up over a bunch of games, it should start to work. I really don't like what the metagame is turning into and it doesn't really make me want to play any games any time soon. Eh, not like I should be playing SE anyway. #RLfirst #allthethings #slowjobmarket #graduating #hiringfreeze #lifeisstrange That moment when there's so many spectators that by the time the first player dies all the colors are taken

Yep, that's definitely going to happen. :P

Too bad, they're just gonna have to deal. Ah, the M'Hael has arrived. o/ FWIW, although there are no kill roles (I believe), it would be hilarious if there was one and Meta got it. Forget Meta the Coinshot, I'd just wonder if he was going after juicy targets to nom! :P Also, Maili, this really brings back memories :) First GM is first. You never forget the first GM that GMed you... Aw, thanks! :) I haven't forgotten my first evil team either. I still want to see you guys destroy a village. :P Just let me trade Gleeman for King, and we're good to go :P I mean, we've got the storming King of Alethkar with us! Whatever we do is ipso facto by royal sanction! :P

I wanted to join this game. I really did. But I didn't want to fail my classes more than I wanted to join the game. Also, I just got Aeronaut's Windlass free from Audible (thanks, awesome free trials!). That was random - I might have spent until 4 AM last night listening to it. And now I've just gotten out of Arabic and I'm scatterbrained, so I think that I'm going to go take a nap. Aeronaut's Windlass is excellent!

But it's good to see Jain back!

Cycle 1

Let the games begin! I'm taking bets on the first kill target. :P

Are you going to keep this doc in the dark until they guess?

Maybe Meta? Because let's kill all the experienced players first? Hellscythe would be my second thought.

You're cheating a bit. You know all the roles. :P Well obviously I know who not to pick realignment. But I wasn't paying any attention to roles. If Kas were playing, he'd be dying cycle 2. groan Way to make a guy never play again... (To be clear, I'm not saying that I would kill you cycle 2 (because I wouldn't without good reason -Thanks :D), but that if we're betting on who is going to die on each cycle, you have already noted that you die excessively on C2. So my money would be best placed on you in that case -Only if I were a regular though. And yeah, I'm kidding ;) But I wouldn't know if you were a regular or not. But anyway, with only a few different roles, I'd expect a large number of regulars -Preach) And if you were playing, you'd probably be my pick for the day 1 kill.

:P I'd hope someone wouldn't kill me C1 for the third time in a row. They'd definitely make it on my kill list. :P

Well, sure, but the fact you've died C1 twice already makes me think you'd be a likely candidate for death.

True, I'll give you that.

I wouldn't personally kill you, I'd give you a cycle's grace, at least.

Thanks, way to be considerate. :P

But from cycle 2, anything could happen.

Fine. I wouldn't put you on a kill list for that, at least. But I am still trying to collect your head so that I can have the Odium panda back. -Doesn't Alv have the Odium panda? Yeah, and Alv's also the one that wants Hael's head. I think Alv dislikes the competition, since Hael is my True Herald. :P

Awesome! Who would I kill first in this game... I'd probably take out Alv. Jain, I would wait and see. inactive!Jain isn't a problem. I'd be concerned if he was actually contributing though.

Alv/Meta would be my first thought, but because of that, I'd intentionally not hit them. I'd probably end up going for Stink, Orlok, or Lopen first.

It'd depend if I thought about the protection roles. If I was thinking of those, I'd take out Hellsythe first.

Interesting choice. Not a bad one though.

He's a talker, and seems to be fairly analytic. That's dangerous. But he'd be hopefully a less likely target for protection. Meta or Alv have potential to land a C1 save. I'd want them to talk first though (were I the one with the protection role).

I agree about Meta and Alv.

So, does my death in the writeup count towards my tally? :P But no, that's fine Mailliw. I die frequently in writeups, though half the time I've volunteered for it.

:P Nope, sorry. I was going to use Wilson somehow, but I couldn't think of an Aon to fit with her name and I didn't want to use Kiireon. Aww...

It doesn't count if Wilson dies in writeups :P That's probably for the best, because if it did, my count would be at 11. Since Wyrms has killed me twice in write-ups. It's not so bad, because I've also died twice in writeups (QF8, LG13). So I'd be at 10, so no different to our current situation. Wait, no, three, because I also die in this writeup. So it works out better for me, as it'd put me equal with you at 11. Too bad we can't actually count those. :P

I know.

Not a single person has made a PM yet. What is this? :P Kipper, get in this game!

I must say, almost every single thing that has happened so far in this game has made me laugh.

Really? :P I'm just glad Meta made two PMs, though I'm not sure you and Hael are in those.

██████ hasn't figured out what to do with his role yet, which is what I'm waiting for. ██████ does want to try a WGG though.

I can confirm that I'm in both of them. And I don't know what he's going to do with his role either.

I seriously have no idea why you picked that. Wait- do you reveal alignments in the death writeups? That's the only thing I can think of right now. Yes, alignments will be revealed. But I picked it for the manipulation aspect and to show that no role is safe. And maybe it's just being new to this thing, but seriously. Some incongruous things have happened, to my way of thinking. I would say them but I can't figure out how to highlight on mobile.

Ouch. I'm sure this should constitute torture... :P

Yeah. And (since I can't figure out how to highlight I'll just use white text)
Just by random chance.

Cycle 2

Guesses on who protected Meta?

Do I get a guess? :P

So much wrong info in Creccio's post. So much.

Oh, for highlight, you go to the colour picker, and up the top it says 'Text' | 'Highlight'. If you click on 'Highlight', it'll let you change the highlight colour.

Not on an iPad, it doesn't! Bah.

Creccio is gonna get lynched for that again, which is a bit of a pity as I read it as being another Jain scenario. Meta's bringing him up on the exact same grounds I did, and he's gonna be as wrong as I was in LG15b wince

If Creccio keeps saying 'peace', I swear, if I were the Rulo, I'd keep rickrolling people with this... Lurker here..Cannot keep track of anyone's names. Going to try anyway. I don't think Creccio is evil necessarily. Meta being attacked would usually be a sign he wasn't, but all this talk about evil Soldiers makes one a little cautious.

Cycle 3

I am dead. Why? ;(how do inactive people vote. I'm on my phone I have no control over color yeah what I'll go look. Similar names how about this lol. Anything not taken. Lol I'm a firebender do it on this one ?? That one work? Wait who r the bad guys

You have to wait and figure it out with everyone else. ;)

Depends on who this is. This is the GM's color. Are you on the Docs app? At the top, there's a A with 3 lines. Click on that and you can change text color.

Orlok isn't the one who died. Ostrich is. Yeah I guess. :p What color do you want? I can change it.

Thanks for letting me spectate, Mailliw. I changed my color to something less common so actual players can have green now.

Of course! Everyone is welcome to spectate! Normally, we don't have this many though.

Will u tell me the bad guys ? :D aww. I say Elkanah, Shallan,

Nope sorry. Everyone but Wilson and the GMs has to figure it out. :P Except that I'm in contact with them, so I already know :P

I'm still having trouble figuring out which forum name goes with which character, so I have no idea, I'm afraid.

If Shalan doesn't post today, does he/she die? I'd think the bad guys would be smart enough to make sure they didn't die of inactivity. Though, it might be funny to have a bad guy seem always on the edge of dying of inactivity, and then if anyone tried to vote for him they could be like "Why are you trying to waste the vote on someone who's going to die of inactivity anyway? You must be evil!!"

- Do they still have pms after the Seon Holder death? I assumed there was another one other than me on either team. What if there's another one? Who? I died. I was a Seon Holder.

I don't think so, I think they can only PM if there's a Seon Holder alive. I don't remember if he died yet or not. Oh. Right. Sorry, I keep having to check back to remember what the role names are.

There is still a Seon Holder alive, so PM's are still up. Yeah, character names are annoying. I tend to use usernames to refer to people outside of RP. This time, I was copying Mailliw's style. I'm less familiar with who everyone is as well, but it's still fun to watch. And I'm starting to get a better hang of people's names.

Though it's Ookla season, so that just adds confusion to the mix..

People's usernames suddenly changing all to "Ookla" doesn't make it easier to remember who they are, true.

At least, for the most part, I think, SE players have kept their avatar the same. Kipper would be a notable exception though.

That's helpful. If I were playing I would probably need a list next to me to check all the time at first. But I expect you get to know each other fairly quickly.

Yeah, you do. I would imagine/hope that the Ookla thing doesn't last too long. I'd expect people to be back to normal by the start of the next game.

It lasts till Brandon's birthday, which I want to say is December 5th or so. I tried to put both character name and usernames in the information part of the Writeup so as to minimize confusion.

Meta is a really impressive player, but he doesn't understand Stink's playstyle at all.

He has no reason to understand Stink's off playstyle. Stink always looks evil then good to me.

First he'll seem evil because he withholds information for no reason so it looks like he's hiding something. But then you just figure out that's how he plays and he seems good. (Who the hell is using my color?)

Yeah. He's just random, not evil. Usually.

Amusingly, the one time he wasn't random was the time he was evil. And I'd had a feeling he was evil then, too. :P

Yeah, it's been changed.

Bleh

You seen Hitchhikers Guide?

no

Ah. Well, I added a line in white text at the bottom of the writeup.

Thank you... Meh, Kill ALL the Creccios when he is ALL the TRADERS!

Also, tags are so much fun. There are now 18 tags...

All the tags!

Do I get any bonus points for successfully calling my death ahead of time?

Yes. You can redeem them in the store for tissues to wipe away your tears.

Awesome! Dieing was totally worth it for that.

Clanky why meee i plead my peace so many times and tried to survive but still sigh

I hate peace! But no it's just that you were suspicious and happened to be the one that would give the most info upon death.

Do I get a guess at the eliminator team? If so based on the suspicions I posted in the thread and Creccio being good I'm going to say: Jain, Alvron, Lopen (or Bort) and Elkanah ;)

Correct guess can be redeemed at the store for... okay, a nice t-shirt to wear at your funeral.

This just keeps getting better. I should've died a long time ago.

Is confused...

Whoever is in black and white, can you put your name at the top so we know who you are? And Hael, that easter egg is great.

Someone used my color up above. Hael...Unless you already changed it, it wasn't me.

At least you got TVtropes linked to in your death writeup?

Now you can all see my pro keyboard. I'll probably edit it :P (Did it for you. And wow... yeah, sounds like you could do with a new one, should arrive soon, and it has LEDs) Why is no-one in chat?

I'm here but I am just a lowly lurker.

Don't you mean, Lovely Lurker?

That's a nicer way of putting it!

Luscious Lurker?

Luscious Lurghker is actually one I kind of like. It looks better with the typos!

Luhsciouhs Luhrgkerg

That gets first prize. Too bad you died too late to collect it.

STINKS Own Encryption.

You should sell that keyboard to the CIA, I'm sure they'd find a use for it.

Every time I forget it when I type. As a side note, I just had a friend link me some metal.

DragonForce. Cool Stuff. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=GFZNKevXJLo>

I don't listen to metal much but that link is pretty cool. I should try listening to metal more maybe.

I have a friend who listens to loads of it so i get him to link me cool stuff. Now i'm trying to make a spotify playlist that'll be metal and last for ages

I often like weird musicals and Siouxsie and the Banshees. But I jump around a lot. Sometimes I'll find out that I like, say, a random girl group from the 50s and spend a week just listening to that.

Oh noes, the album i linked isn't on spotify

That's too bad.

Favourite metal i've heard as well.

I don't know much about spotify, do they just host songs or could you upload it... somehow?

No way to upload or host :(But I did just find the good opening song :) (live though)

That's nice then. You always have Youtube. You could add in a genuinely terrible song to your playlist, and whenever it comes on it's the sign to put on the Dragonforce album instead! :P

Why can't they just do the thing :(

Dunno, but what can you do, I suppose.

Hack them!

Ooh, now we're talking. I shall fetch the axes.

Great! i don't have any of those...

I assume this is what the elite hackers do.

<http://imgur.com/gallery/DkGEPNw> HACKING!

At the end of that someone starts typing with what appears to be a banana.

L33T Skills.

Bananas are reserved for the most elite hackers.

Banonymous.

They wear masks shaped like bananas, and no one fears them.

Though they all should.

Probably. Laughing at Banonymous is the last thing many people do.

Give me all your Google Doc points

Or what, you'll put a banana in my ear? <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0S7w4EK3ZqY>

Youh donp't w\anna mess w\ituh me and my L33T keyboargd.

OK I'll give you my Google Doc points if you just stop boxing me! (Boxing means leaving banana peels outside my home and workplace.) These things are slippery.

Wow. I have no clue where this went. :P

Clanky, your eliminator team guess isn't half bad. ;)

So it is more than half correct then ;)

This WGG might hurt them, but it might just save them too. :P

I suppose I was right about Alv and lopen then. Are the rest wrong?

Well, yes. There's also another assumption you're making that's erroneous.

I did tell people to look at 14 - 17.

This game is an example of why I want to be super harsh on inactives when I GM. Currently I've got an inactive filter on as 96 hours, but I'm thinking I'm dropping it to 48 hours (the length of a cycle, given it's a MR). And I'm thinking that I'm going the requirement be at least 2 posts. And at least one has to either be a vote or game discussion. That might be a tad harsh, but seriously, inactives annoy me. I've been inactive in games, and that's annoyed me. And I've stopped playing games if I can't commit the time to it. >:(

TBH, this is why I think inactivity filters are very important. Though your 'vote' or 'game discussion' requirement is a bit harsh IMO, but on the other hand, I kind of like it. It did annoy me when Jasnah was flagrantly abusing the inactivity filter in MR4. One other alternative I've thought about is like Gamma's ration system: make it so that you can't no-vote for more than x number of cycles in a row, or you go into starvation and then eventually death. I'd have to pitch this as a punishing game, but hey, why not?

Got my new keyboard! All is normal again.

Are there only 3 cultists then? Is that my erroneous assumption?

Maybe it was you saying that Clanky was half correct

I don't think that's it considering it was the "other assumption" that was erroneous and my list had 4 cultists on it.

So Jain, Elkanah or Bort. One of those three is probably evil with the other two inno, though we can't be sure.

Maill made it seem like those three were all good. So we have a cultist team of Alv, Lopen and unknown

So if they are all good then maybe the evil is slightly inactive and hasn't been discussed yet?

That describes everyone except for Meta basically

So that increases the chances greatly! Unless Meta is also evil and deliberately isn't picking up on the WGG that just happened and other people seemed to of picked up on.

If Meta is evil then I and the rest of the players in this game have been expertly fooled and deserve to lose the game. +1

I'm a player! Though if his claim to be a soldier is right then there would be 2 soldiers on the eliminator team unless I'm mistaken, so he's probably not.

Nobody else claimed the save on me so I doubt he is lying about that. If he is evil and saved me that also means that the cultist have done two WGGs this game!

So many Gazelles! Are we in the wild? I thought we were in an inn.

It's a very wild inn. Basically a nature conservatory
Really it should be taken care of better, me thinks.
We should take this up with the innkeeper
Hello! Innkeeper!

Cycle 6

Well, it would be taken care of better if random graffiti stopped appearing all over the place that he had to clean up all the time. Hmph.

They have to realize Lopen and Alv are bad now right guys? Right?!

Also how many games have the eliminators won without any of them dieing? (dying? I never remember how to spell it)

So, I'm told I died of a butter knife. Okay. I'm off to read the writeup now. (this isn't STINK, whoever it is please make it so that I didn't die twice :P)

Okay, so I was hoping for a little bit more than just "dead of butter knife." I guess it was not to be. 😞

I wholeheartedly agree that inactivity is annoying. Oddly, even freezing to death does not seem to dissuade many.

I do too. Mea culpa, mea culpa, mea maxima culpa.

Well, at least it might be a clue that the bad guys are staying just active enough to not freeze. Which narrows it down to everyone else! :P

I really shouldn't have come back to SE so early. I must redeem myself in the next game, then.

Well, life happens. And it's usually more important than elimination games. Usually.

Now it's time to see if the Eliminators realise that they can easily win the game, unless all of the villagers come back and kill Lopen.

Lopen should've been the safest one on their team, considering his role, but alas, they're not doing what I'd hoped they would do. 'Tis a shame.

And what were you hoping?

That he'd use his role to gain trust right from the outset.

It's possible, but maybe he had already done something in his PM with Meta that made him feel that he couldn't do so.

Well, I doubt it. He's the Priest. He could've explained away anything he did C1 as him not being sure about Meta, but then he scanned Meta and knew Meta was good. He could've been working with Meta this entire time, weaseling his way into trust. I think they just haven't known what to do with an evil priest. He could have, but from his perspective, it didn't make any sense to, because any Eliminator could also try that gambit. Since there were no rolescans in this game and no way to prove that he was a priest, he didn't see it being worth the hassle.

Fair point, he should've done that then, but there is also the fact that if they had killed Meta + All others who were making lists then the thread would probably be totally silent, and be an easy win. Though not that fun, so I would've kept him alive :P

They could've done both at the same time. Lopen hasn't been terribly active, so he could've pretended to be a good priest hiding among the lurkers like the cultists have been, using Soldier!Meta to relay things through. Would've been perfect. Ah well.

The problems of speccking a game.

Not exactly. I had this idea the second I knew Maill was putting a priest on team evil. But I don't play QFs.

Too quick and chaotic?

The chaotic isn't a problem. It's the 24 hour cycles. I'm too busy for that. The thing is, I'd try not to be too busy, so I'd check in, but my game play would suffer, so it's best if I just avoid them. Heck, right now, I'm too busy for LG's. :P

Time to make an ELG, 10 day cycles.

No. Definitely not. ELG will never be a thing. I'm saying that from a mod standpoint. They're not feasible.

QQF, 12 hour cycles.

That's more possible, but unlikely since the reason the QFs are 24 hours is to accommodate all timezones. A QQF would screw a few people who are caught in the wrong timezone.

From 6am GMT to 6pm GMT to make sure that Europeans win!

For one cycle, that would work well for Europeans, and then they'd be asleep. While the Aussies are awake. And the Americans. Then there's wildcards like me ;)

Then a 12 hour break for me to catch up with all the work.

But then it wouldn't be a QQF, since it would still be operating on a 24 hour cycle. Why take a break? Why not just keep the cycle up?

Still 12 hour cycles, but with 12 hours of nothingness in between for all the Americans to regret being American.

But that's pointless. And you should ask Orlok how much I'm likely to regret being American.

He's been trying to convert me to British nationalism for months. He's been distinctly unsuccessful. :P I even told him the person who gives me a lifetime supply of Nutella would have my undying loyalty, essentially selling my soul for Nutella, and he still can't do anything.

Hey, the British have been trying to convert us to British nationalism for what, 86 years?

Technically longer if you want to count the years we were ruled by the East India Company and British India, but hey. They failed :P

Many things I do are pointless. And why Nutella?

Because I happened to be eating it straight out of the jar when I had that conversation with him. And why not Nutella? It's kind of amazing. And it's chocolate. And it's amazing. Need I say more?

But then why not just normal Chocolate Spread? How long are we gonna say is 'lifetime'?

Well, the typical lifespan is somewhere around 80 years. I am 28. :O So 52 years? If I try, I can go through a jar of Nutella in about 2 weeks. So that's 26 jars a year. I'm not doing the math for how many jars that is because I'm lazy.

How big is the jar of nutella?

I don't have any with me right now (left it in Utah), but I believe it's the 35 oz jars. I think.

If this is for the conversion to British, then we're gonna have to turn that oz into what everyone else uses.

Ah, but until someone gives me a lifetime supply, I don't have to use mg, and I won't until I get my Nutella. So there. :P

35oz is roughly equal to 1L. Limited Edition 1L Nutella costs 4 pounds. One every 2 weeks means it is 26 per year. 104 pounds a year, times by 52. For 5408 pounds you can convert Wilson to British for life.

Sounds about right.I just sold my soul for 150 US dollars a year? What am I thinking? O.o
Thinking like an american. :P

Hey now. Them's fightin words. I'm thinking like a female who's addicted to chocolate.

Isn't everyone in America addicted to chocolate?

No, and I'm not addicted to the crap Americans call chocolate. I only eat that junk when I'm truly desperate.

We have quality chocolate over here.

I know. Cadbury, among others. I remember, from when I was there 6 years ago.

So really we shouldn't have to send you Nutella but instead just send you yearly supplies of Chocolate.

Penguins. Yearly supplies of penguins. The chocolate bar penguins. My grandmother first introduced us to those and they're just.... Amazing.

The ones with the best jokes ever?

Yes. Those. :) I purchased far far too many of those when I was there, and I don't regret it at all.

<http://www.gospelweb.co.uk/fowlerfamily/penguinjokes.html>

Even our Cheap Versions of chocolate bars taste better.

It's true. Penguins are freaking cheap but they're better than any chocolate bar I've ever had in America. And the ice cream there! Freaking Magnum. Holy crap. I was so happy when the US started getting those.

Magnum? I've never had American Ice Cream before but Magnum isn't that good.

Well. If you've had American chocolate, just think about that. Not that all ice cream here sucks. Some premium brands are very good. But it's also very expensive. However, I love ice cream, so I'm willing to pay a little extra for quality stuff.

Uuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuuugh. I can get American Chocolate at my Asda, thinking about it. It's like Hershey's(go autocorrect) or something?

Hershey's is one brand, yes. The biggest.

It's like White Chocolate and they put either more chocolate in it or a cookie.

Well, there are a lot of Hershey's bars. The cookies n cream is what you're describing. That's actually one of their better ones.

Went on a trip to America with my school and when we were on our last day and had basically nothing to buy, me and my friends just bought a crap ton of them and put them in the Mini-Refrigerator we had in our room, and I do not advise eating lots of them at once.

I wouldn't particularly advise that with any American chocolate. Or actually any sweets in general. You make yourself sick on the sugar.

One great thing though, was how much easier it is to find drinks, especially Gatorade. I was drinking like 5 a night, and 3 or 4 a day as we walked around, but mostly it was from the Vending Machine :P

I'll bet that got expensive. Would've been cheaper to just go to the grocery store and buy a carton of Gatorade.

Weren't allowed out, so it was no Gatorade or Gatorade. Didn't really matter anyway, as I had money to spare at the end.

Ah, but think of the things you could've splurged on if you'd had the extra money. :P of course, I'm not a huge fan of Gatorade. Only drink it when I'm desperate. I prefer water.

Ummm, Clothes? And Gatorade is better than my friend who had a Coke addiction, like a bottle every hour.

Wasn't thinking clothes, no. Sorry. I hate shopping. Well, unless I have an express purpose. That's the only kind of shopping I can stand. In and out and done. The kind of splurging I was referring to depends on interests and location.

I had friends that would take so long that I became the 'That would look good on you' 'Yes it will' 'Buy it now'. We had deadlines to keep!

I've got to go. Dinner calls. If you're still around, we can continue this later. :)

Oh my, it's half 1 in the morning. Also, I can see 4 different people!

I'm here. But I'm leaving now. :P Just keeping up.

That was quick! If someone says something and I don't see it, please ping me in chat,

Hey Jain! Nice to see you again, Hand of the Inquisition! :P Also, chocolate. Eh. Give me a good cuppa anyday >>

Why not all shift to Australia? Or New Zealand even.

Cause 'Murica. :P

England > America.

America > All.

All has America in it, so that statement is pointless, much like most American things :P

...I like how I don't even bother to involve my country in this pointless match :P

Nothing is pointless when it comes to matters of the country! Unless your country is American.

As the poet put it, sarcastically: dulce et decorum est pro patria mori.

CYCLE 7

Do Canadian and Central/South American countries count as pointless then? Because they are also on American continents.

Stink did say "American" and he never defined that to mean the United States, so I'd say that, yes, he's saying all American countries are pointless. Obviously, me being a citizen of the United States and all, I don't agree with that, but he's a hoity-toity Brit, so I suppose we shouldn't expect much else. :P (Disclaimer for future readers: I am jesting. I have far too much British blood in me to be serious about all Brits being hoity-toity or anything less than decent folk. :))

Hey, it's people! o/

Lopen just came up with a strategy to get Elk on his side, voting-wise. He's finally using the Priest to manipulate. :P

Don't listen to him Elk! It's all a lie! (except him being a priest and knowing you are good)

And most people aren't even thinking of vote manipulation most likely, what with it not being used at all.

Mali. Could the Soldier have saved someone from dying of inactivity? Idle curiosity.

I would say they couldn't, but it would be interesting if they could.

I actually brought that up with Elb, and we decided that they could. Because it'd only extend their life one cycle.

The Soldier runs into the inactive, picks them up and throws them right next to the fireplace so that they don't die.

Essentially. :P Then runs away before anyone sees them.

Soldier Training 101, or Ninja Training? Where does the Soldier sleep?

In their own bed. :P they have a room, just like all the other traders.

You'd think he'd be sleeping by the door or something, what with him always saving people's lives.

He probably just doesn't actually go to sleep, just watches out the window for killings. No wonder Alv is sleep deprived. :P >>

Does he have Hot Chocolate?

Meallin can make him some.

Any of you read The Lies of Locke Lamora?

No, sorry.

Ah, well there's lots of references to it in this writeup I'm about to post. Orlok's name is just too good.

I'm guessing that the good guys are all terribly doomed. But open to surprises.

That is a very good guess.

The only reason I'd possibly root for the good guys at this point is that Meta is one of the few ones who's regularly showing up and shouting entertainingly at everyone. That's always fun.

Thank you all. This doc is now closed.
