

SL: Do you want to get more attention on social media?

Hi Ave Rosary,

I finished analyzing all of your work and I want to say that the way you lay out everything and the quality of everything is really great and of course, they're all very beautiful.

Although there is a lot I have to say about all your work, I only want to mention one particular area that needs improvement in order to move towards success. That is your lack of effective use of social media.

It is very important to post frequently, intensify social media campaigning and use persuasive language on ads.

If you allow me to help you use your instagram effectively, you will receive much more attention which in turn will increase your revenue even more. It can open up the greater possibility of your business being promoted by popular catholic influencers on youtube and instagram.

So, do you want to take these next steps forward together, and discuss all this further in depth on here or a zoom call? If so, I'm ready to start the dialogue.

Sincerely,

Michael Falciglia
