Dear parents and families,

Your child has been identified as a High Potential Linguist by the Royal Holloway University of London, and the London Borough of Hounslow.

This means that their teacher has nominated them for Languages For All, a programme that works with the best language students in the country to help them achieve high grades in modern language studies, and to support them with studying languages at A-level. We also help out students explore degrees and careers linked to languages.

Languages For All, in partnership with the university and your child's school, will organise trips and masterclasses to boost your child's grades and to inform them about the benefits of continuing their modern language studies.

Your child has received a letter which outlines the benefits of the programme which you can ask to see. Studying languages brings you benefits throughout your life - it broadens your horizons and improves your career prospects. People who can speak and learn languages are in high demand in many sectors: diplomacy, security, tourism, trade, education and research. Knowing many languages can open doors to a successful future!

What your child will do next:

- Attend a launch trip at Royal Holloway University 09:30am - 3.45pm on Thursday 15th January 2026. On this day they will attend university taster sessions, career networking sessions, tours of campus etc.
- We will be taking students from school at [8am] and travelling by train/minibus etc
- Add details of trip if needed.

What you need to do next:

1. Please confirm on the form below that you are happy for us to share your details with Languages For All - an education charity. They will use this information to support your child with their GCSE attainment and A-level choices.
2. Complete the trip permission form +details of how
