

Personnel File

Lily Zephyran

The information contained within this document is classified Level 4.

*Sharing classified information, even inadvertently, can have disastrous consequences. The Foundation entrusts you with this knowledge for a reason. Safeguard it, or face the consequences.

---

CONFIDENTIAL

THIS DOCUMENT MAY NOT BE SHARED WITH OR USED BY PERSONNEL BELOW CLEARANCE LEVEL 4

Index

- Physical -> 3

    - Overview

    - Medical Notes

- Background -> 4

    - Upbringing

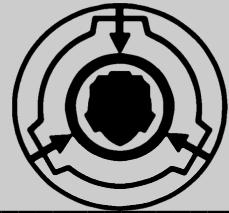

    - Adolescence

    - Joining the Foundation

---

CONFIDENTIAL

THIS DOCUMENT MAY NOT BE SHARED WITH OR USED BY PERSONNEL BELOW CLEARANCE LEVEL 4

Physical

Name: Lily Zephyran
Sex: F
Nationality: Scottish
Race: Caucasian
Age: 20
DOB: 06/05/2004
Height: 6' 6" (198cm)
Weight: 182 lbs
Blood Type: AB+
Eye Colour: Blue
Hair Colour: White

Medical Notes:

- No reported health issues.
- Family has been in good health in the past.
- Frequently donates blood to the Medical Department's blood drive.
- Allergic reaction to tree and grass pollen.

---

CONFIDENTIAL

THIS DOCUMENT MAY NOT BE SHARED WITH OR USED BY PERSONNEL BELOW CLEARANCE LEVEL 4

Background

Lily spent her early life within the Scottish Highlands, a place of isolation and beauty. Her family had lived in those hills for generations, learning to give to the land as much as they took from it, building a strong sense of trust and dependence with the nature around her. From a young age, these hills and wide-open skies served as a canvas on which her imagination was projected. This place built into her resilience and independence, which would soon define her character.

Growing up, Lily heard stories about her ancestors ranging from those that told of the hardship that came with living in such isolation to myths of creatures that lived in the hills, likely to scare her into staying near. Her parents were educators who successfully instilled in her a love to read and expose herself to learning. Not limited just to the things around her but also information reaching far beyond the hills. This encouragement materialized into an insatiable appetite, mostly for reading books on history, human psychology and mythology.

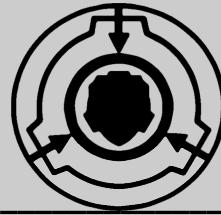

As she grew older she found herself interested in the dynamics of human behaviour, a passion that made her develop a hypersensitivity to the darker aspects of human nature, a factor that will help her later in her choice of career.

Upon completion of her education, Lily sought to utilize her talents within a more rigid framework. The path she thought she would travel took a peculiar turn when the opportunity to serve at the SCP Foundation found it's way to her. Because of her desire to work towards something larger than herself, she deeply felt obliged to contribute, so Lily joined the Foundation.

---

CONFIDENTIAL

THIS DOCUMENT MAY NOT BE SHARED WITH OR USED BY PERSONNEL BELOW CLEARANCE LEVEL 4

It was a difficult recruitment process designed to test her professional qualifications and the strength of her psyche. Her upbringing came to play a very pivotal role. The harsh highlands in which she was raised helped to teach her the fortitude with which to bear such intense scrutiny and the demanding nature of the work. Her potential was noticed by the selection board, which commented on her analytical skills and her capacity for empathy, vital in a job that often means sailing through grey areas of morality.

Once selected, Lily entered a world which was fascinating, yet daunting at the same time. The Department of Internal Security was a maze of protocols combined with ethical dilemmas where often the stakes were life and death. Her previous education on the dynamics of human behaviour gave her a strong advantage in this field, allowing her to quickly progress through the ranks to that of ISD Inspector.

Through the course of her work, Lily's sensitivity to the psychological implications of the various anomalies within the foundation grew and her ability to look at situations from different perspectives enabled her to actively participate in the Department. She instinctively understood the subtle balance that had to be drawn between considerations of security and those of ethics, usually supporting solutions which took into consideration the wider implications of what they did.

---

CONFIDENTIAL

THIS DOCUMENT MAY NOT BE SHARED WITH OR USED BY PERSONNEL BELOW CLEARANCE LEVEL 4