

The Undead Knight of the order of no quarter, the tragic figure of shovel knight, the Specter Knight

The Knight of the moon, the loyal fist of Khonshu, Moon Knight

Background

Specter Knight

Specter Knight was once human, a thief named Donovan. He traveled with his friend Luan as adventuring partners.

Eventually, Donovan would convince Luan that a powerful amulet within the tower of fate could save and protect his son, Reize.

They scaled the tower over the next few days, only to be met with Shield Knight at the top. She warned the duo of the darkness held within the amulet. And while Luan was listening to reason, Donovan instead engages in battle with Shield Knight.

After the fight, the tower begins to collapse and Luan pleads with Donovan to forget the amulet so they may leave with their lives. Donovan lashes out at Luan, accusing him of being a coward. But then...

The floor fell from beneath them.

While Donovan survived the fall, barely, Luan was not so lucky and the fall proved fatal. He was on death's door when the enchantress made him an offer, he could give her his servitude and loyalty in exchange for new life. He was going to die if he refused and so from that day forth...

Donovan became known as Specter Knight.

The first member of the enchantress' order of no quarter and the one who hates the enchantress the most.

Moon Knight

Born the son of a Rabbi, Marc Spector served as a Recon Marine and briefly as a CIA operative before becoming disgusted with the practices and ejecting all morals to become a mercenary.

While being a mercenary, Marc would meet a man named Raoul Bushman, and Bushman would betray him and leave him to die in the harsh Egyptian desert.

Marc would end up in a tomb belonging to the deity Khonshu, god of the moon. And he would die. But...

He would be resurrected by Khonshu, on one condition. He would become his fist, a loyal warrior to Khonshu to enact his vengeance upon the guilty.

Marc accepted, becoming Moon Knight. And along with his other two personalities, Jake Lockley and Steven Grant, Moon Knight would become a name feared by many of the criminal world.

Moon Knight also should compare to things like the punishers explosives and harming characters on par with the feat of 60 tons of TNT (City block level)

Speed

Moon Knight casually dodged rifle bullets, the feat coming to a top speed of 34,223 m/s (high Hypersonic)

Moon Knight should be on par with Spiderman as given the chain scaling from the AP section, and Spiderman has dodged lightning moving 369,237 m/s (Massively Hypersonic+)

Durability

Moon Knight and his main rival, werewolf by night, have been fighting since his debut and have mostly won, he has taken hits from him and Werewolf by night can contend with Dracula who compares to Spiderman who survived the Daily Bugle landing on him with 4.45 tons of TNT (Large Building level)

Moon Knight also should compare to things like the Punishers explosives and compare to characters that can tank them with the feat being worth 60 tons of TNT (City block level)

Experience and skill

Marc has worked his personalities into a coherent system to work as one. Steven excels in handling higher society and bureaucracy meanwhile Jake is the street savvy informant while Marc is the martial arts master.

Possesses inhuman observational skill and can extract intricate details from crime scenes at a single glance, describing a criminal's gender, height, and body traits from the crime scene alone.

Is extremely skilled with a manner of weapons ranging from firearms and staffs to thrown weapons such as his crescent darts.

Equipment

Crescent darts

Moon Knight's signature throwing weapon, made of adamantium. He has explosive variants and sleeping variants.

Truncheon

Serves as batons, a three piece staff or nunchucks, also made of adamantium and can double as a grappling hook

Suit

His suit, originally made of adamantium now Carbonadium. Just as durable but lightweight and flexible. The suit has an energy shield in the arm, web shooters, metal claws, magnets to call his weapons back and built in hypersonic sound devices

Ankh

An ankh that glows in the face of imminent danger, can also steal powers from people

Bolas

A simple classic bolas to wrap around and immobilize someone

Ivory Boomerang

A boomerang of ivory that returns after being thrown

Tripwire guns

Guns that shoot...tripwires attached to crescent darts. Real innovative stuff here

Chainsaw

Yeah he just has a chainsaw, really is random bullshit

Silver capsule

Once broken, reduces temperatures to below freezing

Guns

Moon Knight has carried several assault rifles and hand guns before

Bow and arrow

Carries a bow and arrow with pinpoint accuracy mind you

Axe

Has used golden axes before on multiple occasions

Abilities

Superhuman characteristics

Weapon mastery

Enhanced senses

Martial arts mastery

Acasuality

Was unaffected by Kang reshaping the timeline to remove everyone from it, except for Khonshu and Moon Knight

Mind Manipulation

Anyone who enters in contact with his mind have a portion of their mind stolen, leaving them catatonic. Its implied Mister knight can open people's minds

Durability Negation

With Adamantium darts

Ice manipulation

Has a silver capsule that, when broken, makes the surrounding area below freezing and caused someone's legs to stiffen

Flight

Can glide with his cape

Electricity Manipulation

His truncheons can unleash electrical charges

Explosion manipulation

With explosive crescent darts

Sleep manipulation

With gas crescent darts that release a sleeping gas, also has regular old knock out gas

Non Physical Interaction

Can interact with and harm ghosts

Power absorption

With Divine Ankh's he can steal powers, seen with Doctor Strange, Ghost Rider and the Phoenix force

Precognition

Via Ankh's which glow when there is danger imminent

Web creation

His gauntlets have web shooters

Forcefield generation

His armor has an energy shield shaped like captain america's that forms over his arm

Natural weaponry

His gauntlets have metal claws imitating wolverine

Ice manipulation

Has liquid nitrogen grenades

Sleep Manipulation

Has sedative darts

Sound Manipulation

Has Hypersonic sound devices

Immortality (type 2 and 4)

Survived being stabbed in the neck and heart and left to bleed for half a day. Khonshu's blessing will resurrect him upon death

Regeneration (Low)

Requires moonlight to regenerate

Summoning

Has summoned an army of mummies and werewolves before

Stat amplification

Fists of Khonshu can pray and ask for an increase to his strength

Resistance to: fire Manipulation

His suit is completely fire proof

Resistance to: electricity manipulation

His suit is Insulated so electric attacks do not directly affect him

Resistance to: sound manipulation

His hood has a counter frequency system to counteract sonic attacks

Resistance to: mind manipulation

As stated before, anyone that enters in contact with his mind enters a catatonic state, his mind was also made into a realm of its own by khonshu to protect against mental attacks

Resistance to: dream manipulation

Moon Knight's mind is so fractured that he can't process nightmares and broke out of a dream made by Morpheus

Resistance to: poison manipulation

His mask has built in filters to resist harmful gases for a short time, naturally resisted an unspecified poison

Resistance to: Madness manipulation

Resisted the maddening influence of the Phoenix force and has trained himself to keep the voices in his head in check, and when someone untrained interacts with his mind they are overwhelmed with madness

Resistance to: pain

Stated to be unable to feel physical pain

Weaknesses

Insanely Mentally unstable

The Ankh's power stealing can't work on powers that come from one's body, it failed against Black Panther as his power was "in his blood" but works against Strange's magic as it does not come from his body.

The facts have been laid out and the verdict is in...now let's get to the action!

Fight

Lightning illuminated the Lich Yard as Specter Knight floated, back towards the entrance to the arena. He turned when he felt a presence enter "This is no place for the living, mortal. You shall be summoned when it is your time." The presence he felt belonged to a hooded man in white, a crescent moon emblem on his chest "Vengeance Calls, Spirit. You've tormented Enough people under The Enchantress." Specter Knight chuckled as he gripped his scythe "The Enchantress is just full of surprises isn't she? She granted me new life...so that I may take yours!" Moon Knight spun crescent darts in both hands "Bring it, Freak."

FIGHT!

Moon Knight lunged first, throwing both Crescent darts at Specter Knight who swung his Scythe to deflect them, but Marc held up the assault and swung his truncheon in its staff form and clashed with Specter's Scythe "Not bad for a mortal." Moon Knight chuckled "you're not bad yourself, ghost." Specter Knight suddenly clutched a jewel tightly and then shot forward, phasing through Moon Knight entirely and slashing him in the back, spraying blood amongst tombstones. But Moon Knight turned, hearing Khonshu's voice in his head "He is a mockery of death. Strike him down, my fist." Marc swung his staff at Specter, hitting him in the side of the head before snapping the staff into its dual baton form "Come on." He started pressing the advantage and began to walk forward while swinging his Batons to hit Specter "you aren't the first undead freak I've put down!" Specter Hissed out as he pulled an arm back "But I will be your last!" He swung forward with great force, unleashing the dread talon as he clawed down Moon Knight's chest and threw him back. He breathed heavily for a moment as he sat, back against a tombstone. "Watch out, my fist." Moon Knight looked up in time with Khonshu's warning and narrowly ducked down to avoid Specter's Scythe being thrown his way, it cleaved through the tombstone and returned to Specter. The undead knight raised his hand and clutched his fist, suddenly skeletons started bursting from the ground, some wielding swords and others wielding bows "You like Monsters huh? Well I'll give you monsters." Mummies started to crawl out of the ground and start overwhelming the skeletons with their numbers but some were cut or shot down as Moon Knight jumped up and aimed a tripwire gun at Specter then fired, entangling him in wire before pulling himself in and landing on him "Vengeance calls, nothing personal." He started punching down into Specter, throwing left and right hooks but was caught unaware when a skeleton walked up and detonated, throwing him off of Specter who snapped the wires before floating up and clutching the will skull, restoring some of his health. "The Enchantress keeps me alive, Knight of the Moon. You will have to work harder than that." Moon Knight narrowed his eyes as Jake rang in his head "Let me at em, Marc!" Marc huffed

“shut it Jake! Not now!” Specter Knight halted in confusion for a moment before chuckling “No matter.” He rushed forward with his Scythe and clashed with Moon Knight’s chainsaw, the Undead Knight growing more frustrated before hooking the chainsaw with the curve of the scythe and throwing it away “what will you do now, Mortal?” Suddenly he recoiled back when an Ankh was thrown at his head “I’m not done with you.” Moon Knight spoke as the Ankh triggered an effect, sapping the energy from Jewel of Specter Knight’s judgement rush, Specter looked at the Jewel, clutching it but nothing happened “what?...” he looked up just to see Moon Knight jumping up at him before he disappeared through him and swung his Truncheon staff down on Specter’s head, throwing him down into the ground. He shakily raised his head off the ground as Moon Knight landed on the ground “Alright, let’s fini-“ Specter Knight suddenly raised a coin and everything around slowed to a crawl “You proved formidable, Knight of the moon. But...” he stood up and twirled his scythe “The enchantress will not let me fail. My apologies.” He swung the scythe at Moon Knight who moved barely an inch as the blade tore through his throat, time quickly resumed as he shot his hands to his throat before collapsing.

“Rise. My Fist.”

Just moments later, after Specter Knight had turned around, Moon Knight rose before firing one of his tripwire guns at Specter, ensnaring around his neck “what!? How!?” he couldn’t turn his head to look at Moon Knight who yanked the gun upwards to bring Specter Knight into the air and then slam him down on the ground, Specter quickly severed the string “how can a MORTAL deny death!?” Moon Knight chuckled as he cracked his neck “Khonshu’s just full of surprises ain’t he?” Specter Knight growled in irritation as he raised his hand and made the entire area blanketed in darkness. But clouds moved in the sky to show a full moon, causing Moon Knight to smirk underneath his mask “Let’s finish this...” he threw out a handful of Ankhs onto the ground, all flashing at random intervals warning him of the danger from Specter Knight but also illuminating the area for a few seconds at a time. Moon Knight started raising his arms to block Specter’s scythe slashes. An Ankh at their feet glowed bright enough to show him he had an opening so he punched Specter Knight hard enough to send him flying down into the ground, breaking through. Moon Knight cracked his knuckles and jumped down after him.

Specter Knight had recovered and found himself falling towards a system of rails, he landed on a rail and threw his scythe down, grinding on it down the railway with no end in sight. He looked back and saw Moon Knight falling down through the hole and grinding on the same rail he was on with simply his suit’s armored feet. “Can’t run from vengeance, Specter!” Specter knight turned, still grinding as he shot a lost soul at Moon Knight who jumped over it and continued grinding, gaining distance and growing closer. Specter Knight raised his hand causing lightning to strike above ground and then burst through, hitting the railing and breaking it causing Moon Knight to fall to a lower rail “What will-“ Specter stopped as the rails all abruptly ended earlier into a lava pit drop “Damn it...” Moon Knight spoke with a huff before jumping off the rail, letting his cape carry him before Specter pulled out a feather “Your end is NOW mortal!” The feather wilted away as he dove down at Moon Knight, tackling him into the Lava, burning himself to ash. Moon Knight’s suit thankfully helped him survive the initial heat but he could not sustain it for long. He painfully swam through the lava until he reached an edge, grunting as he pulled himself up out of the lava with heavy pained breaths. "Well...We got em..." he looked up to see Specter Knight reform in front of him with a chuckle "Not yet, Mortal." A blazing phoenix soared down in an instant, crashing down towards Moon Knight and engulfing the entire area in an explosion.

When the smoke cleared, Moon Knight stood, suit torn and damaged as he breathed heavily "This is getting annoying." Specter sighed in response "I can agree. So let's end this now." He raised his chronos coin but the split second before time would slow down, Moon Knight raised an Ankh. And as the Chronos Coin slowed down time...everything slowed for Specter Knight instead "Khonshu...give me strength!" Moon Knight looked towards the moon, awaiting a response "very well, my fist." He felt a surge of strength run through him, he swung his fist, leaving behind a trail of energy before it connected with Specter Knight's head, for a moment...Moon Knight kept his fist there, pushing further and further until suddenly Specter Knight exploded from the godly energy. His scythe and bits of armor rained down as his cape fluttered through the lich yard "good riddance, freak."

KO!

Post Analysis

The Knight of the moon took down the knight of the Enchantress. When it came to the stat trinity, Both were of the same tier in AP and durability but Moon Knight held a solid advantage being further into his tier, and being faster as well. Specter Knight's hax was a problem with things like time stop, Teleportation, His will skull which was kind of busted with how much it heals him and this also let him have an advantage in the early fight but as Moon Knight uses his ankhs he would drain the relics and gain their powers himself, Moon Knight cannot steal powers that are biological however Specter draws his Powers from relic items, making them perfectly capable of being stolen, and if Specter was caught in stopped time then it was over. Both had means of resurrection however Khonshu was not a one time thing unlike the fenix feather, sure Khonshu has only revived Marc from things like stabbing or drowning so maybe extensive damage would do him in for good but its not like Specter really had the ability to harm Moon Knight. Being undead also meant Specter technically had a stamina advantage but...what is he gonna use that for? Moon Knight was also more formally trained and had tools for dealing with the undead and unholy beings like Specter Knight. In the end, Moon Knight's stats, Ankhs and Support led to The Moon haunting Specter Knight.

The winner is Moon Knight

Moon Knight

+Stronger and more durable

+Faster

+Could Steal Specter's relic abilities

+More formal training

+Has tools and ways to harm/kill ghosts and spirits

- +Khonshu resurrection
- +can limit Specter's arsenal
- Extremely vulnerable to Specter's hax
- Theoretically less stamina
- Starts out with an inferior arsenal

Specter Knight

- +Better Hax
- +Theoretically better Stamina
- +better arsenal to start
- physically weaker and less durable
- Slower
- Hax gets shut down as fight progresses
- Arsenal becomes limited as fight progresses
- less formal training
