The Consolidated Outland Pioneer

The Consolidated Outland Pioneer

Ever since the unveiling of the quantum drive, Humanity has been on an upward trajectory of innovation and exploration. Advances in technology have allowed more and more people to sail the stars, to discover previously unknown solar systems, to harvest resources from celestial bodies.

Now Consolidated Outland offers another advance in Humanity's technological evolution. Introducing the first mobile construction yard, the Pioneer opens up exciting opportunities for planetary settlement by allowing you to create your own modular structures.

So you can bring civilization to the wild.

Stake Your Claim

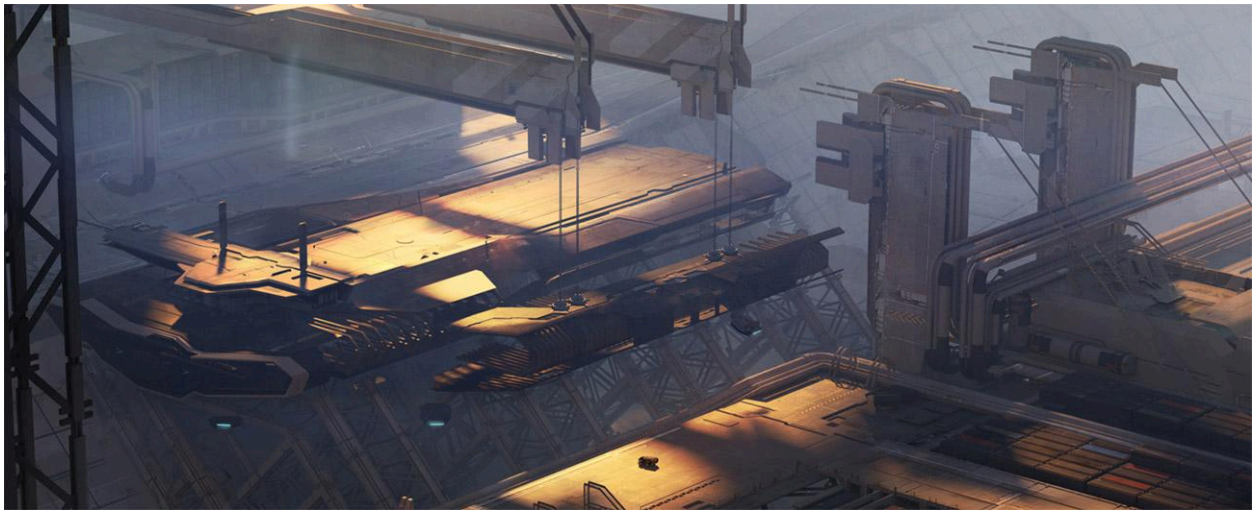

Consolidated Outland is pleased to announce that the UEE Planetary Development Bureau has released a number of Claim Licenses for commercial or private construction. Whether you're looking to settle on a distant moon or a terraformed planet, these claims allow you to officially own a piece of the UEE and enjoy its protection.

Each Pioneer will include a single Claim, changing the question of whether you should build to where you should build.

For over eighty years, the Planetary Development Bureau has been working with planetary authorities to not only oversee the zoning of building plots, but to mediate and supervise the sale of land claims for commercial and private use.

Certain restrictions apply.

The Pioneer is developed and designed with the same technology found in Consolidated Outland's shipyards. It comes with a fully functioning production line inside and can produce an entire outpost in an area of your choosing.

Once it's deployed and your outpost is set up, it can continue to build the area up until you have an entire settlement built! The Pioneer is designed to make even the least hospitable places of the 'verse seem like home.

The Pioneer can create everything from the materials that it carries with it. Those looking to build within the empire can purchase a UEE claim license. If you want to strike out into the borders worlds, you can do that as well.
