

Invitation: The AATF Technology and Resource Curation Commission will host a FREE Webinar to support all French teachers and students on Thursday, March 19th. Open to ALL FRENCH teachers. I will post a poll to choose the "best" time across the time zones, and the webinar will be recorded and shared. Please share this invitation and the poll with your colleagues.

Webinar time poll:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSfPgWodWj_VA5cpp2_FN2Qm8ZtNm-LH66ZXCsMMzffobo8J8A/viewform

As the AATF Technology Commission Chair and the Content and Resource Curator, I have held off on overwhelming teachers with more resources at this stressful time. Not everyone knows what is/will be expected of them and I wanted to wait until the initial "folie" has calmed down. You can read my Twitter thread here on this topic here:

<https://twitter.com/CatherineKU72/status/1239229390774513672?s=20>

So many of you are sharing supportive, amazing resources. MERCI! But how are we effectively organizing them? What if we can't find what we need or if we want to share multiple ideas for multiple levels? The AATF Technology has a plan for that.

Presenters: Heidi Trude (2019 SCOLT ACTFL TOY of the Year Finalist, Technology Guru, and AATF Leader) and Catherine Ousselin (me) will be hosting an AATF webinar in three parts. If you are interested in presenting an idea during the webinar, please contact me directly: catherineku72@gmail.com.

This will be a 2 hour webinar, but you can drop in/out as needed. There will be a chance in each module to ask questions and share ideas.

Topics:

- How can we effectively locate and organize resources, activities, etc?
- What tools are available for teaching/learning online? This includes videos, audio, CI/TPRS strategies, assessments, etc.
 - How do we adjust our CanDo outcomes and acquisition goals?
 - What about AP?!
- How do we connect with and support students who do not have Internet access?

Questions? Please write me at catherineku72@gmail.com

Bon courage et bonne continuation!