

US

Two souls not meant for one another

But can't seem to be apart.

It's just a silly game we play

You scream my name, you stomp around

You say things you don't mean,

But always mean.

And I don't make a sound.

Us.

You burn me with words

I cut you with silence,

You hate me

I love you

I hate you

You love me.

Us.

We were cursed to meet each other

Now it's like I can't breathe without you,

But I can't see around you.

You leave me breathless, but you stifle me

You gave me light, but you blinded me

Simultaneously

Us.

Every time we grow

You remind me it's not working

For every smile there's a tear

And you remind me it's not worth it.

But I keep giving these chances

And I can't explain myself.

At the end of the day there is always more scars

But I can't be with anyone else.

No one hurts us more than you do,

and no one loves us more than I do.

Us.

Do not promise me forever

If you cannot handle what forever entails.

Us.
