Lore!

Cherrier during 2008 wanted to appeal to their fanbase that wanted a coupe both with performance, & luxury. They spent some time getting their design, suspension finalized in 2011 and then they came up with the name Galactique. They mass-produced it, making over 980K units over its lifespan of ten years from 2011 - 2022. There weren't many eventful things, they did use it for GT3 & GT2 cars but other than that, nothing special about this car.
