

Privacy Policy For Clock Vault

The Android app "Clock Vault" respects and protects the privacy of every user. Your personal information will not be used or disclosed by. This information won't be divulged or given to third parties unless specifically stated differently in this privacy statement. Locker periodically updates this privacy statement. You are assumed to have accepted the entirety of this privacy statement at the time you agreed to the Locker service agreement.

PERMISSIONS ASKED BY THE APP

The app clock vault asks and uses the following Main permissions from the users.

Read, modify or delete the contents of your storage:

To organize the photos, videos and other files from the app itself and the user can move, share, delete and manage them easily.

Take pictures and videos:

Camera permission allows user to click photos or videos from Locker application.

Device Admin:

The app uses device administration permission to protect this app from being uninstalled accidentally.

SHARING OF YOUR INFORMATION

To commercialise this app, we make use of ad networks.

The Ad Identifier may be used by this ad network to deliver you targeted advertising within the app that are relevant to your interests. The app uses the Google AdMob which may get information. You can get through the AdMob link to get it Privacy Policy.

The privacy policy of that third-party platform will control how it uses the information about you that it has obtained. We have no control over the privacy rules that apply to such websites or applications.

SECURITY

Your personally identifiable information is never sold, traded, or otherwise transferred to unaffiliated third parties. Moreover, we take steps that are reasonable to prevent unauthorized access to or disclosure of your information.

POLICY FOR CHILDREN

The Clock vault is not intended for use by children under the age of 13. The children under the age of 13 must use it under the guidance of Parents or guardian.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

The Clock Vault maintains the right to periodically review and amend this privacy statement to take into account new guidelines or other developments. We'll post any updates to our privacy policy on this page.

CONTACT US

For any type of queries in the privacy policy you can freely get in touch with us on ezcompress75@gmail.com