

Soft Mount Care Sheet

- Make sure to store or display them in a clean, dry area where they won't be exposed to intense sunlight or moisture. Heat and intense light can discolor or bleach the color of the fur and moisture can damage the leather and wear it down faster.
- Minimize frequent handling to increase the longevity of your soft mount. Handling your soft mount less will stop the leather and armature inside the mount from wearing out faster or even breaking.
- Wash hands before handling soft mount to decrease the exposure to dirt and grime.
- Brush out your soft mount gently with a soft bristled brush every now and then to keep dirt and dust from collecting on it and settling further into the fur.
- When cleaning, never wet the leather as it will disintegrate and degrade the leather quality.
- Keep away from pets! If your pet were to chew on the soft mount, not only could it destroy the mount, but your pet could ingest materials used on the mount not intended for consumption that could seriously hurt them!
