

SL: A Space For Improvement

Hi Mark,

Saw your work on Instagram, and even though I have been a fan of bracelets for over 2 years, your artwork defeated them.

Looking at your website, I saw a space for improvement that can allow you to strengthen your bond with your customers and ensure their loyalty to your artwork by adding a new feature to your website.

The brand like Wristler uses this feature to stay connected with customers and grow their customer base.

I can get this feature working and doing its job in just a week, allowing you to see the growth in sales week after putting it into the wilderness.

You don't have to worry about adding hours of work because I'm here to make it happen and to assure you of my skills, I'm sending you a document with my artwork of persuasion.

If you are interested in having loyal customers and steady growth of them, write me back to discuss the details of a new feature for your website.

Kind Regards,

Kamil Gwózdź

P.S. The quicker we start working with each other, the quicker we can outrun others in the race of strap selling.
